- Set 1 - CEVAPLAR

1-) According to the first aim, what should a person do with the blessings placed within reach of the human senses?

A person should recognize those blessings, measure and appreciate them through the senses, and respond with broad gratitude to Allah.

2-) What is the second aim of life in the passage?

It is to use the abilities placed in human nature to discover the signs of Allah's names and, through them, know Him.

3-) In the third aim, what is the role of a person's life in the world?

A person's life should show the beautiful works and fine signs of Allah's names before other creatures in this world.

4-) How does the fourth aim describe worship?

It describes worship as openly declaring servanthood to the Creator both by speech and by one's natural state and conduct.

5-) What two ways of worship are mentioned in the fourth aim?

Worship is mentioned through speech and through one's natural state.

- Set 2 - CEVAPLAR

1-) How many main matters are mentioned in the summary of life's aims in the target passage?

Four are listed in the target passage.

2-) What is meant by using the senses as scales?

It means using the human senses to recognize, compare, and appreciate the blessings that come from divine mercy.

3-) Why are the human faculties compared to keys in the second aim?

Because they help open what is hidden from ordinary sight, allowing a person to understand the signs of Allah's names.

4-) What does the third aim teach about the human being's place in the world?

It teaches that a human being is meant to be a conscious witness who displays the signs and beauty Allah has placed in him.

5-) Which of the four aims is most clearly inward, and which is most clearly outward?

The second is especially inward because it focuses on knowing Allah, while the third is especially outward because it focuses on showing divine signs before creation.
