

1

What is the main idea of the fifth aim of life in this passage?

Cevap 1

A person should knowingly beautify himself with the finer gifts placed in him by Allah's names and present those gifts as signs of divine favor.

2

In that comparison, what corresponds to the soldier's decorations in human life?

Cevap 2

The refined inner and outer capacities granted through the manifestations of the divine names.

3

What kinds of actions of living beings are highlighted in the sixth aim?

Cevap 3

Their life-driven greeting, glorifying, and worship of their Creator.

4

What two steps follow seeing these signs in living beings?

Cevap 4

Reflecting on them inwardly and then affirming them through witness.

5

What does the sixth aim teach about the world of living things?

Cevap 5

It teaches that living beings are engaged in meaningful acts that point to Allah.

6

What are the human examples used in the seventh aim to help explain divine attributes?

Cevap 6

A person's limited knowing, ability, and choosing.

7

How are those limited human qualities supposed to be used?

Cevap 7

They are to be used as measures for understanding Allah's unlimited attributes and sacred qualities.

8

What divine qualities are highlighted at the end of the house-world example?

Cevap 8

Power, knowledge, and wisdom.

9

Which of the three aims most directly teaches observation of creation outside the self?

Cevap 9

The sixth aim.

10

In the fifth aim, why is the image of a soldier at a ceremony used?

Cevap 10

It illustrates how a person should wear and show the honors granted to him instead of ignoring them.

11

Why does the fifth aim mention being seen by the Eternal Witness?

Cevap 11

It stresses living with awareness that one stands before Allah, not merely before other people.

12

In the sixth aim, what does the passage imply about animals and other living beings?

Cevap 12

Their very life contains forms of praise and worship that point to their Creator.

13

What is the difference between merely noticing those signs and truly fulfilling the sixth aim?

Cevap 13

Fulfilling it requires thoughtful reflection and clear testimony, not just passive noticing.

14

What does the sixth aim imply about being spiritually awake in the world?

Cevap 14

It means seeing creation as alive with remembrance of Allah rather than as spiritually empty.

15

What human qualities are mentioned in the seventh aim as small measuring samples?

Cevap 15

Limited knowledge, limited power, and limited will.

16

Why does the passage move from a person's house to the world as a whole?

Cevap 16

To show that if order in a small place points to skill and planning, then the order of the universe points even more strongly to the Creator's perfect attributes.

17

What conclusion should be drawn from the order of the world, according to the passage?

Cevap 17

The One who manages the world must possess complete power, knowledge, and wisdom.

18

How does the passage connect self-knowledge and knowledge of Allah?

Cevap 18

It teaches that understanding our limited capacities properly can lead us to recognize Allah's unlimited perfection.

19

What practice does the fifth aim encourage regarding the subtle senses and inner gifts a person has?

lisans 11-soz-eng-with-arabic-p13-hayatin-gayeleri-dokuz-emir-
5-7-emirler

Cevap 19

It encourages a person to adorn himself with them knowingly and treat them as marks of divine generosity.

20

What would be missing if someone had those gifts but never recognized their source?

Cevap 20

The person would miss the conscious acknowledgment of divine favor that the passage calls for.

21

In the sixth aim, what are the signs of life said to include?

Cevap 21

They include forms of praise and devotion shown by living beings toward their Creator.

22

How should a thoughtful believer respond to those responses in living beings?

Cevap 22

By observing them attentively, reflecting on their meaning, and bearing witness to them.

23

According to the sixth aim, why is simple looking not enough?

Cevap 23

Because the goal is not casual seeing but conscious reflection, recognition, and testimony.

24

What three kinds of responses from living beings are described in the sixth aim?

Cevap 24

Greeting their Creator through life, praising Him through signs of life, and worshipping Him through the purposes of life.
