

1

What two sources of teaching are being compared in this passage?

Cevap 1

The Qur'an and philosophy are being compared.

2

What does the Qur'an do with the usual sense that things are plain and familiar?

Cevap 2

It tears away that sense and reveals the hidden wonder in created things.

3

What does the Qur'an do for people who are aware and thoughtful?

Cevap 3

It draws their attention and opens their minds to endless learning.

4

What kinds of things does philosophy focus on instead?

Cevap 4

It pays attention to rare and unusual cases that go outside the normal pattern.

5

What is the point of the example about a person with unusual physical features?

Cevap 5

The point is that philosophy notices odd forms but misses the miracle of sound human creation.

6

What regular blessing for the young is mentioned as another sign from Allah?

Cevap 6

The steady giving of nourishment to babies and young creatures.

7

What unusual sea example is mentioned?

8sinif 13-soz-eng-with-arabic-p01-kuran-hikmeti-ile-felsefenin-karsilastirilmesi

Cevap 7

A sea creature that is separated from the usual pattern and is fed in a special way.

8

What does the phrase about philosophy's "bankruptcy" mainly point to?

Cevap 8

It points to philosophy's weakness in giving true guidance about the Creator.

9

What kind of knowledge is most praised in this passage?

Cevap 9

Knowledge that leads a person to recognize Allah's wisdom, power, and mercy.

10

What is the main topic of this passage?

8sinif 13-soz-eng-with-arabic-p01-kuran-hikmeti-ile-felsefeninkarsilastirilmesi

Cevap 10

It explains the difference between the Qur'an's way of teaching and philosophy's way of teaching.

11

What hidden problem in human perception does the passage say the Qur'an removes?

Cevap 11

It removes the dullness that comes from getting too used to things.

12

Once people stop taking creation for granted, what do they begin to see?

Cevap 12

They begin to see marvels and signs of divine power all around them.

13

What does philosophy present as “worthy of attention,” according to the passage?

Cevap 13

It presents odd and exceptional things that stand outside the usual order.

14

How does the passage use the example of human creation to make this point?

Cevap 14

It says philosophy overlooks the marvel of a normal person and instead focuses on someone with unusual bodily features.

15

What does the example of feeding the young show about Allah's care?

Cevap 15

It shows that Allah provides in a gentle, ongoing, and merciful way.

16

What does the passage say the reader should do after seeing this comparison?

Cevap 16

The reader should take a lesson from it.

17

What does the passage teach about true instruction?

Cevap 17

True instruction points people to Allah through the normal patterns of creation.

18

What comparison does the reader get invited to listen to at the beginning of the passage?

Cevap 18

A comparison between the results and teachings of the Qur'an and of philosophy.

19

How are the beings in the universe described after that usual way of looking is removed?

Cevap 19

They are seen as amazing signs of Allah's power, not just common things.

20

What gift does the Qur'an offer to thoughtful people besides wonder?

Cevap 20

It offers a limitless source of understanding.

21

What tone does the passage use to describe philosophy's treatment of creation?

Cevap 21

It presents philosophy as careless and lacking proper appreciation.

22

Why is ordinary human creation presented as something great in the passage?

Cevap 22

Because it is a complete and powerful sign of Allah's creating.

23

What mistake does philosophy make when it notices only the unusual sea case?

Cevap 23

It gives priority to a rare exception instead of the greater signs seen in regular life.

24

What is the main lesson the reader is asked to take from this comparison?

Cevap 24

The reader should see the richness of the Qur'an in teaching about Allah and the weakness of philosophy in that area.