1-) What is presented as the second medicine in the passage?

It is thankfulness, being content, praying sincerely, and depending on Allah's mercy.

2-) What human condition is this medicine especially meant to address?

It addresses feelings of poverty, need, and dependence.

3-) What does the mention of flowers add to this picture?

It shows beauty and abundance, not just basic survival.

4-) What does this transformation teach about a believer's inner life?

It teaches that spiritual need can lead to closeness to Allah instead of bitterness.

5-) What two broad duties are symbolized by the ticket and voucher?

Doing what Allah requires and staying away from major sins.

6-) Why is prayer given special attention among those duties?

Because it is presented as the leading and central obligation among them.

7-) What challenge should be given to those who call people toward sinful pleasure?

They should be asked whether they can remove death, stop decline, end human weakness and need, and shut the grave; if not, they have no real answer.

8-) What judgment is made about science, philosophy, and art in this context?

They are useful only within worldly limits and cannot guide a person past death.

9-) What two parts of obedience are described as easy?

Establishing the daily prayers and staying away from the major sins.

10-) How does the passage summarize the nature of the Qur'an at the end?

It presents the Qur'an as the true word that comes from the Truth, speaks truth, shows truth, and spreads radiant wisdom.

11sinif short-words-p25-seventh-word-medicine-of-gratitude-and-contentment-prayer-and-avoiding-major-sins-as-the-ticket - Set 2 - CEVAPLAR

1-) Which four spiritual qualities are grouped together as the second medicine?

Gratitude, contentment, supplication, and trust in Allah's mercy.

2-) What picture is used to show Allah's generosity in providing for people?

The earth is pictured like a spread-out table of blessings, and spring is shown like a beautiful decoration placed on it.

3-) What large-scale examples from creation are used to prove divine generosity?

The whole earth and the season of spring are used as examples.

4-) Why is appetite used as an example?

Because appetite makes a person ready to receive and enjoy nourishment, just as spiritual need prepares a person to seek Allah.

5-) What is the proper response to personal poverty according to the text?

A person should admit need before Allah and ask Him sincerely.

6-) According to the passage, who agrees on the need for these provisions for the afterlife journey?

Those with insight into unseen realities and the mysteries of creation are said to agree on it.

7-) How does the passage treat worldly intellectual achievements when compared with the hereafter?

It says they have limited reach and cannot carry a person past the grave.

8-) What response to the Qur'an is encouraged at the end of the passage?

People are urged to listen to it, receive its light, live by its guidance, and keep reciting it.

9-) How are the five prayers and avoiding deadly sins described?

They are described as light and easy compared with their huge benefits and results.

11sinif short-words-p25-seventh-word-medicine-of-gratitude-and-contentment-prayer-and-avoiding-major-sins-as-the-ticket - Set 3 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What combination of actions makes up the second medicine?
Being thankful, being satisfied with Allah's decree, making du'a, and trusting His mercy.

2-) How does the passage use the image of a guest to teach this lesson?

It shows that someone hosted by a generous Lord should not feel crushed by need, because the Host provides abundantly.

3-) What warning is given so the reader does not misunderstand praise of poverty?

It does not mean showing neediness to people or acting like a beggar; it means recognizing one's dependence on Allah.

4-) What spiritual attitude is praised in the wise because of this understanding?

They appreciate their dependence on Allah and do not see it as shameful before Him.

5-) What kind of behavior is condemned right after that point?
Showing poverty to people in a performative way and acting like a beggar is condemned.

6-) Which form of worship is specially highlighted?

The required daily salah is specially highlighted.

7-) Why are science, philosophy, and art described as insufficient?
Because they can only help within worldly limits and do not guide a person beyond death.

8-) What two religious responsibilities are described as easy yet highly beneficial?

Performing the five prayers and avoiding the major sins.

9-) What overall role is given to the Qur'an in the final lines?

It is presented as the true guide that explains reality, gives light, and leads people in the right way.
