

11sinif short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 1

1-) What main idea is introduced at the beginning of this passage about religion and human life? (23 kelime)

True religion helps a person

2-) Which religion is identified as the true religion in the passage? (1 kelime)

3-) What spiritual solution is offered at the beginning of the passage? (7 kelime)

Turning

4-) How is the road on the left described? (11 kelime)

It offers

5-) What does the right road require from the traveler? (9 kelime)

It requires

6-) What false attraction belongs to the other road? (8 kelime)

It seems

7-) What contrast between freedom and order is being taught through the two roads? (20 kelime)

The passage teaches that freedom

8-) Which brother is described in a negative way, and what does that suggest about his priorities? (23 kelime)

The other brother is described

9-) What does the phrase about following the second brother with imagination prepare the reader for? (16 kelime)
It prepares the reader

11sinif short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 2

1-) What question is this passage trying to answer through the example of the two brothers? (23 kelime)

It is explaining the value

2-) What does the passage say happens to a human being without religion? (9 kelime)

Such a

3-) What does the passage say religion does for the human spirit? (13 kelime)

It saves the

4-) What does the fork in the road symbolize? (14 kelime)

It symbolizes a

5-) How does the man describe the relationship between hardship and benefit on the right side? (19 kelime)

He explains that the

6-) What combination is found on the left-hand road? (8 kelime)

Freedom from

7-) What can we infer about the relationship between moral character and wise decision-making from this passage? (14 kelime)

Good character supports

8-) What does this suggest about choosing only what feels comfortable? (16 kelime)

It suggests that chasing

9-) What does the opening suggest about a life built only on personal desire? (13 kelime)

It may look

11sinif short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 3

1-) What is the passage inviting the reader to understand before the story begins? (24 kelime)

It invites the reader to understand

2-) What is the spiritual problem of a world without true religion, according to the passage? (10 kelime)

It traps

3-) How is the road on the right described? (12 kelime)

It requires discipline

4-) What choice does that man leave to the brothers after describing both roads? (8 kelime)

He leaves

5-) What good result comes from accepting that discipline? (5 kelime)

It

6-) Why does the passage say the left road only seems easy? (19 kelime)

It looks comfortable at 7-) Which brother is described as having good character, and how does that affect his decision? (15 kelime)

The upright brother

8-) How does each brother's inner condition affect his outer path? (17 kelime)

The good one chooses

9-) What warning does this opening story give to a young person who wants life with no rules? (22 kelime)

It warns that chasing a

11sinif short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 4

1-) How does the passage connect true religion with understanding the world? (16 kelime)

It teaches that true

2-) What statement about religion is made before the comparison begins? (8 kelime)

That the

3-) What role does trust in Allah play in the first brother's choice? (19 kelime)

It gives him confidence

4-) What do the brothers ask the man at the fork? (8 kelime)

They ask

5-) What combination is found on the right-hand road? (8 kelime)

Obligation and

6-) What deeper lesson is taught by the difference between outward ease and inward burden? (23 kelime)

Something that looks easy on

7-) What motivates the second brother to choose the other road? (8 kelime)

He is

8-) What does this opening suggest about the connection between faith and self-discipline? (15 kelime)

It suggests that

9-) What important life lesson about temptation is taught through the left-hand road? (27 kelime)

Things that attract people because they

11sinif short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 5

1-) What subjects does the passage say a person can understand through the lesson that follows? (23 kelime)

A person can understand the

2-) Why do the two brothers stop at the fork in the road? (8 kelime)

They want

3-) Who gives direction to the two brothers at the place where the road divides? (8 kelime)

A stern

4-) What does the guide at the fork say is required on one of the roads? (10 kelime)

He says

5-) What character traits lead the second brother to choose the left road? (13 kelime)

He is shown

6-) What hidden cost comes with the left road? (7 kelime)

It

7-) How are the brothers different in their moral condition? (14 kelime)

One is upright

8-) How does the opening comparison connect religion to everyday choices? (22 kelime)

It shows religion as a

9-) How can this passage guide Muslim students in making choices today? (26 kelime)

It teaches them not to judge

11sinif short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 6

1-) What belief about Allah is stated at the opening of the passage? (18 kelime)

That only Allah is

2-) Why is the world described as a kind of prison when true religion is absent? (16 kelime)

Because without true religion,

3-) What storytelling method is used to explain these ideas? (13 kelime)

A comparison is

4-) Why does the advice of the man at the crossroads matter so much? (15 kelime)

Because he explains

5-) In what way is the bad brother's path more attractive at first? (11 kelime)

It appears

6-) What does the first brother's response show about his mindset? (10 kelime)

It shows

7-) Why does the second brother choose differently? (14 kelime)

He prefers a

8-) What overall message should a student take from this first part of the comparison? (27 kelime)
A person should choose the path

9-) What central moral lesson appears in this opening section? (14 kelime)
True freedom is

CEVAP ANAHTARI

11sinif short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 1 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What main idea is introduced at the beginning of this passage about religion and human life?

True religion helps a person understand the world and the human soul, while living without it leads to deep misery and spiritual darkness.

2-) Which religion is identified as the true religion in the passage?
Islam.

3-) What spiritual solution is offered at the beginning of the passage?
Turning to Allah and affirming His oneness.

4-) How is the road on the left described?

It offers fewer limits, but it leads to danger and misery.

5-) What does the right road require from the traveler?

It requires respect for law, discipline, and proper conduct.

6-) What false attraction belongs to the other road?

It seems appealing because it offers unrestricted freedom.

7-) What contrast between freedom and order is being taught through the two roads?

The passage teaches that freedom without guidance can destroy a person, while discipline under rightful guidance brings peace and protection.

8-) Which brother is described in a negative way, and what does that suggest about his priorities?

The other brother is described as immoral and lazy, suggesting that he values ease and lack of limits more than what is right.

9-) What does the phrase about following the second brother with imagination prepare the reader for?

It prepares the reader to picture his experience closely and learn from what happens to him.

11sinif short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 2 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What question is this passage trying to answer through the example of the two brothers?

It is explaining the value of true religion, the condition of the human spirit, and why life becomes dark and painful without faith.

2-) What does the passage say happens to a human being without religion?

Such a person becomes deeply unhappy and spiritually lost.

3-) What does the passage say religion does for the human spirit?

It saves the spirit from darkness and gives meaning and direction to life.

4-) What does the fork in the road symbolize?

It symbolizes a human being's choice between a guided life and an unguided one.

5-) How does the man describe the relationship between hardship and benefit on the right side?

He explains that the right side includes difficulty because of rules, but those rules lead to safety and joy.

6-) What combination is found on the left-hand road?

Freedom from restraint together with danger and misery.

7-) What can we infer about the relationship between moral character and wise decision-making from this passage?

Good character supports wise choices, while bad character pushes a person toward harmful decisions.

8-) What does this suggest about choosing only what feels comfortable?

It suggests that chasing comfort alone can lead a person away from what is truly good.

9-) What does the opening suggest about a life built only on personal desire?

It may look appealing at first, but it carries hidden harm and unhappiness.

11sinif short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 3 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What is the passage inviting the reader to understand before the story begins?

It invites the reader to understand the world, the human soul, the importance of religion, and the misery that comes from being without it.

2-) What is the spiritual problem of a world without true religion, according to the passage?

It traps the human being in confusion, darkness, and misery.

3-) How is the road on the right described?

It requires discipline and obedience, but it leads to safety and well-being.

4-) What choice does that man leave to the brothers after describing both roads?

He leaves the decision fully up to them.

5-) What good result comes from accepting that discipline?

It brings safety and happiness.

6-) Why does the passage say the left road only seems easy?

It looks comfortable at first because it has no clear limits, but in reality it brings hardship and trouble.

7-) Which brother is described as having good character, and how does that affect his decision?

The upright brother has good character, and it leads him to choose the guided path.

8-) How does each brother's inner condition affect his outer path?

The good one chooses the safer guided path, and the bad one chooses the risky unguided path.

9-) What warning does this opening story give to a young person who wants life with no rules?

It warns that chasing a life without restraint may feel appealing at first, but it can end in harm, regret, and sadness.

11sinif short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 4 - CEVAPLAR

1-) How does the passage connect true religion with understanding the world?

It teaches that true religion helps a person make sense of life and its deeper meaning.

2-) What statement about religion is made before the comparison begins?

That the religion accepted by Allah is Islam.

3-) What role does trust in Allah play in the first brother's choice?

It gives him confidence to choose the path of order and duty rather than the path of careless freedom.

4-) What do the brothers ask the man at the fork?

They ask which road is the better one.

5-) What combination is found on the right-hand road?

Obligation and discipline together with safety and happiness.

6-) What deeper lesson is taught by the difference between outward ease and inward burden?

Something that looks easy on the surface may actually lead to suffering, while something that looks demanding may lead to peace and benefit.

7-) What motivates the second brother to choose the other road?

He is drawn to the absence of restrictions.

8-) What does this opening suggest about the connection between faith and self-discipline?

It suggests that faith strengthens a person to accept discipline that leads to real good.

9-) What important life lesson about temptation is taught through the left-hand road?

Things that attract people because they seem free and easy may hide serious harm, so choices must be judged by their outcome, not just by first impressions.

11sinif short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 5 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What subjects does the passage say a person can understand through the lesson that follows?

A person can understand the world, the human spirit, the role of religion, and why life without true religion becomes dark and painful.

2-) Why do the two brothers stop at the fork in the road?

They want guidance about which path to take.

3-) Who gives direction to the two brothers at the place where the road divides?

A stern and serious-looking man gives them advice.

4-) What does the guide at the fork say is required on one of the roads?

He says one road requires obedience to law and order.

5-) What character traits lead the second brother to choose the left road?

He is shown as morally weak, lazy, and attracted to an unrestricted life.

6-) What hidden cost comes with the left road?

It brings danger and a miserable outcome.

7-) How are the brothers different in their moral condition?

One is upright and decent, while the other is careless, lazy, and morally corrupt.

8-) How does the opening comparison connect religion to everyday choices?

It shows religion as a path of responsible living that may seem demanding but actually protects a person and leads to happiness.

9-) How can this passage guide Muslim students in making choices today?

It teaches them not to judge a path by how easy or popular it looks, but by whether it is faithful, disciplined, and pleasing to Allah.

11sinif short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 6 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What belief about Allah is stated at the opening of the passage?

That only Allah is truly worthy of worship and that He is ever-living and fully sustaining all things.

2-) Why is the world described as a kind of prison when true religion is absent?

Because without true religion, a person cannot understand life properly or find inner freedom and hope.

3-) What storytelling method is used to explain these ideas?

A comparison is used through the story of two brothers taking different roads.

4-) Why does the advice of the man at the crossroads matter so much?

Because he explains the true outcomes of both choices before the brothers commit to one.

5-) In what way is the bad brother's path more attractive at first?

It appears easier because it promises freedom from rules and restraint.

6-) What does the first brother's response show about his mindset?

It shows reliance on Allah and willingness to accept guidance.

7-) Why does the second brother choose differently?

He prefers a path with no restrictions because of his weak morals and laziness.

8-) What overall message should a student take from this first part of the comparison?

A person should choose the path of faith, self-control, and obedience to Allah, because that path leads to real good even if it looks harder at first.

9-) What central moral lesson appears in this opening section?

True freedom is found through faith and right guidance, not through escaping all limits.