

8sinif short-words-p24-seventh-word-proof-for-patience-and-reliance-weakness-as-a-document - Set 1

1-) What are the two medicines named in the passage? (18 kelime)

They are trusting Allah

2-) How does the passage explain why a person who trusts Allah should not be overwhelmed by fear? (26 kelime)

It says such a person depends

3-) What words does the person say when facing a severe hardship? (13 kelime)

He reminds himself

4-) According to the passage, what kind of feeling can a person who knows Allah find in weakness? (15 kelime)

He can find

5-) What example is used to help explain this idea? (24 kelime)

The passage gives the example of

6-) What does the example of the baby and mother teach about human weakness? (28 kelime)

It teaches that feeling needy is not

7-) How is a mother's mercy described when compared with Allah's mercy? (13 kelime)

A mother's mercy

8-) Why did the wise people gladly admit that they had no real power of their own? (12 kelime)

Because they wanted

9-) What did those wise people use as a means of drawing near to Allah? (9 kelime)

They used

10-) What main lesson does this passage give about fear and weakness? (21 kelime)

It teaches that when fear

8sinif short-words-p24-seventh-word-proof-for-patience-and-reliance-weakness-as-a-document - Set 2

1-) Which qualities are joined together as the first medicine in this passage? (7 kelime)

Trust

2-) Which qualities are joined together as the second medicine in this same section? (12 kelime)

Depending on the

3-) Why does the passage mention Allah's command that something happens as soon as He wills it? (15 kelime)

To show that

4-) How should a believer respond to a major disaster according to the passage? (17 kelime)

He should turn to

5-) In this passage, is weakness shown as something to hide or as something to recognize before Allah? (9 kelime)

It is

6-) What surprising idea does the passage teach about fear of Allah? (12 kelime)

It teaches that

7-) Why is the baby example important to the meaning of the passage? (21 kelime)

It makes the lesson easier

8-) What can we infer about self-reliance from this passage? (16 kelime)

We can infer that

9-) How does the passage describe the wisdom of people who know Allah well? (15 kelime)

It describes them

10-) What is the overall message of this section about the heart of a believer? (18 kelime)

A believer's heart finds

8sinif short-words-p24-seventh-word-proof-for-patience-and-reliance-weakness-as-a-document - Set 3

1-) What two cures are presented for the human condition in this passage? (20 kelime)

One is trust in Allah

2-) How does belief in Allah's absolute power change the way a person faces hardship? (14 kelime)

It gives him

3-) What statement does the believer make during intense suffering? (14 kelime)

He declares that

4-) According to the passage, what kind of person takes comfort in admitting his helplessness? (5 kelime)

A

5-) What emotional lesson is taught through the image of a child running to its mother? (12 kelime)

The lesson is

6-) Why does the passage compare divine mercy with a mother's mercy? (20 kelime)

It uses something familiar and

7-) What attitude toward personal strength did the wise people reject? (13 kelime)

They rejected acting

8-) What did the wise people seek by admitting powerlessness? (6 kelime)

They

9-) If someone says weakness is always bad, how would this passage respond? (19 kelime)

It would say weakness

10-) What final lesson does the passage teach about weakness, fear, and faith? (21 kelime)

It teaches that weakness and

8sinif short-words-p24-seventh-word-proof-for-patience-and-reliance-weakness-as-a-document - Set 4

1-) In this passage, what are believers told to rely on instead of their own limited strength? (10 kelime)

They are

2-) What role does patience play in the first medicine? (11 kelime)

Patience helps

3-) Why does the passage say a trusting person has less reason to fear? (13 kelime)

Because he is

4-) What does the passage show about the proper response to calamity? (14 kelime)

The proper response

5-) How is fear of Allah different from ordinary fear in this passage? (20 kelime)

It is not shown as

6-) What does the baby illustration suggest about true safety? (15 kelime)

True safety comes

7-) What does the passage teach about the source of all tender mercy in creation? (13 kelime)

It teaches that

8-) How did the wise turn weakness into something beneficial? (13
kelime)

They used it

9-) What is one central theme running through the whole passage? (12
kelime)

Human weakness becomes

8sinif short-words-p24-seventh-word-proof-for-patience-and-reliance-weakness-as-a-document - Set 5

1-) What are the two pairs of qualities called medicines in the passage?
(15 kelime)

They are trust

2-) What does the passage say about the fear of someone who depends on Allah? (16 kelime)

It says such fear

3-) What belief helps the person stay calm during the hardest trials?
(12 kelime)

The belief that

4-) According to the passage, what can come from knowing one's own weakness before Allah? (12 kelime)

Comfort, sweetness, and

5-) What everyday human relationship is used to explain this spiritual truth? (10 kelime)

The relationship

6-) What is the point of saying that a mother's mercy is only a small reflection? (17 kelime)

The point is to

7-) How did the wise people view claims of personal power? (12 kelime)

They turned away

8-) What did they choose to present before Allah instead of strength?
(9 kelime)

They presented

9-) What is the best short summary of this passage? (19 kelime)
Real peace comes from

8sinif short-words-p24-seventh-word-proof-for-patience-and-reliance-weakness-as-a-document - Set 6

1-) What is meant by the two medicines in this passage? (19 kelime)

They are spiritual cures

2-) What two things does the first medicine combine? (7 kelime)

It

3-) What two things does the second medicine combine? (11 kelime)

It combines

4-) How does the passage support the idea that Allah is fully able to help? (11 kelime)

It points

5-) What should a believer remember when disaster strikes? (16 kelime)

He should remember that

6-) What unusual claim does the passage make about fear of Allah? (14 kelime)

It says that

7-) How does the example of the intelligent baby support that claim? (15 kelime)

It shows that

8-) What comparison is made between human mercy and divine mercy? (15 kelime)

Human mercy, even

9-) What choice did the wise make about their own strength? (12 kelime)

They stopped depending

CEVAP ANAHTARI

8sinif short-words-p24-seventh-word-proof-for-patience-and-reliance-weakness-as-a-document - Set 1 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What are the two medicines named in the passage?

They are trusting Allah with patience, and relying on the Creator's power while having confidence in His wisdom.

2-) How does the passage explain why a person who trusts Allah should not be overwhelmed by fear?

It says such a person depends on the Lord of all things, whose power is unlimited, so even huge troubles do not have to crush him.

3-) What words does the person say when facing a severe hardship?

He reminds himself that he belongs to Allah and will return to Him.

4-) According to the passage, what kind of feeling can a person who knows Allah find in weakness?

He can find a kind of peace and sweetness in admitting his weakness before Allah.

5-) What example is used to help explain this idea?

The passage gives the example of a baby who feels safest when it knows it is helpless and runs to its mother for protection.

6-) What does the example of the baby and mother teach about human weakness?

It teaches that feeling needy is not always bad, because it can lead a person to seek mercy and safety from the one who truly cares for him.

7-) How is a mother's mercy described when compared with Allah's mercy?

A mother's mercy is described as only a tiny reflection of divine mercy.

8-) Why did the wise people gladly admit that they had no real power of their own?

Because they wanted to turn fully to Allah instead of trusting themselves.

9-) What did those wise people use as a means of drawing near to Allah?

They used their weakness and their fear of Allah.

10-) What main lesson does this passage give about fear and weakness?

It teaches that when fear and weakness push a person toward Allah, they become a source of spiritual strength and comfort.

8sinif short-words-p24-seventh-word-proof-for-patience-and-reliance-weakness-as-a-document - Set 2 - CEVAPLAR

1-) Which qualities are joined together as the first medicine in this passage?

Trust in Allah is joined with patience.

2-) Which qualities are joined together as the second medicine in this same section?

Depending on the Creator's power is joined with confidence in His wisdom.

3-) Why does the passage mention Allah's command that something happens as soon as He wills it?

To show that Allah's power is complete and immediate, so trusting Him is completely reasonable.

4-) How should a believer respond to a major disaster according to the passage?

He should turn to Allah, remember that he belongs to Allah, and place his trust in Him.

5-) In this passage, is weakness shown as something to hide or as something to recognize before Allah?

It is shown as something to recognize before Allah.

6-) What surprising idea does the passage teach about fear of Allah?

It teaches that fear of Allah can contain a deep spiritual pleasure.

7-) Why is the baby example important to the meaning of the passage?

It makes the lesson easier to understand by showing that helplessness can lead to safety and closeness instead of only pain.

8-) What can we infer about self-reliance from this passage?

We can infer that relying only on ourselves is not enough, because human strength is limited.

9-) How does the passage describe the wisdom of people who know Allah well?

It describes them as people who willingly admit their weakness and seek refuge in Allah.

10-) What is the overall message of this section about the heart of a believer?

A believer's heart finds security by trusting Allah, accepting human weakness, and depending on His mercy and wisdom.

8sinif short-words-p24-seventh-word-proof-for-patience-and-reliance-weakness-as-a-document - Set 3 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What two cures are presented for the human condition in this passage?

One is trust in Allah with patience, and the other is relying on Allah's power with confidence in His wisdom.

2-) How does belief in Allah's absolute power change the way a person faces hardship?

It gives him courage, because he knows his Lord can do whatever He wills.

3-) What statement does the believer make during intense suffering? He declares that he belongs to Allah and that his return is to Allah.

4-) According to the passage, what kind of person takes comfort in admitting his helplessness?

A person who knows Allah.

5-) What emotional lesson is taught through the image of a child running to its mother?

The lesson is that fear can drive a person toward loving protection.

6-) Why does the passage compare divine mercy with a mother's mercy?

It uses something familiar and loving to help the reader understand, while also showing that Allah's mercy is far greater.

7-) What attitude toward personal strength did the wise people reject? They rejected acting as if they were strong and independent on their own.

8-) What did the wise people seek by admitting powerlessness? They sought Allah's protection and nearness.

9-) If someone says weakness is always bad, how would this passage respond?

It would say weakness becomes good when it leads a person to trust Allah and seek refuge in Him.

10-) What final lesson does the passage teach about weakness, fear, and faith?

It teaches that weakness and fear are not defeats if they lead a person to trust Allah and seek His care.

8sinif short-words-p24-seventh-word-proof-for-patience-and-reliance-weakness-as-a-document - Set 4 - CEVAPLAR

1-) In this passage, what are believers told to rely on instead of their own limited strength?

They are told to rely on Allah's power and wisdom.

2-) What role does patience play in the first medicine?

Patience helps a person stay steady while trusting Allah during hardship.

3-) Why does the passage say a trusting person has less reason to fear?

Because he is under the care of the One whose power reaches everything.

4-) What does the passage show about the proper response to calamity?

The proper response is to return to Allah inwardly through trust, remembrance, and surrender.

5-) How is fear of Allah different from ordinary fear in this passage?

It is not shown as panic or despair, but as a feeling that brings a person toward mercy and safety.

6-) What does the baby illustration suggest about true safety?

True safety comes from being sheltered by one who is loving and stronger than you.

7-) What does the passage teach about the source of all tender mercy in creation?

It teaches that such mercy comes from Allah and reflects His greater mercy.

8-) How did the wise turn weakness into something beneficial?

They used it as a reason to seek Allah instead of trusting themselves.

9-) What is one central theme running through the whole passage?

Human weakness becomes a blessing when it leads to dependence on Allah.

8sinif short-words-p24-seventh-word-proof-for-patience-and-reliance-weakness-as-a-document - Set 5 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What are the two pairs of qualities called medicines in the passage? They are trust with patience, and dependence on Allah's power with confidence in His wisdom.

2-) What does the passage say about the fear of someone who depends on Allah?

It says such fear loses its crushing force because the person leans on the all-powerful Lord.

3-) What belief helps the person stay calm during the hardest trials? The belief that he belongs to Allah and will return to Him.

4-) According to the passage, what can come from knowing one's own weakness before Allah?

Comfort, sweetness, and a stronger connection to Allah can come from it.

5-) What everyday human relationship is used to explain this spiritual truth?

The relationship between a baby and its mother is used.

6-) What is the point of saying that a mother's mercy is only a small reflection?

The point is to show that Allah's mercy is much greater than even the gentlest human care.

7-) How did the wise people view claims of personal power?

They turned away from such claims and admitted their need for Allah.

8-) What did they choose to present before Allah instead of strength?

They presented their weakness and their fear of Him.

9-) What is the best short summary of this passage?

Real peace comes from knowing we are weak servants and placing our trust in Allah's mercy, power, and wisdom.

8sinif short-words-p24-seventh-word-proof-for-patience-and-reliance-weakness-as-a-document - Set 6 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What is meant by the two medicines in this passage?

They are spiritual cures that help a person face life's hardships through trust in Allah and dependence on Him.

2-) What two things does the first medicine combine?

It combines trust in Allah and patience.

3-) What two things does the second medicine combine?

It combines relying on the Creator's power and trusting His wisdom.

4-) How does the passage support the idea that Allah is fully able to help?

It points to His absolute command and power over all things.

5-) What should a believer remember when disaster strikes?

He should remember that he belongs to Allah and that his final return is to Allah.

6-) What unusual claim does the passage make about fear of Allah?

It says that fear of Allah can bring a kind of joy and comfort.

7-) How does the example of the intelligent baby support that claim?

It shows that feeling helpless can be sweet when it leads to protection and closeness.

8-) What comparison is made between human mercy and divine mercy?

Human mercy, even a mother's, is only a tiny sign of Allah's much greater mercy.

9-) What choice did the wise make about their own strength?

They stopped depending on their own strength and sought refuge in Allah.