

8sinif short-words-p66-worship-as-worldly-happiness-second-through-fifth-aspects-order-creation-social-duty-and-brotherhood - Set 1

1-) What is the main purpose of worship in the first paragraph of the passage? (13 kelime)

Its main purpose

2-) What two qualities come from that direction of the mind? (6 kelime)

It

3-) What does the passage say shows that this wisdom is real? (11 kelime)

The precise

4-) What evidence of that wisdom is mentioned? (8 kelime)

The universe's

5-) What danger is mentioned if a person does not hold firmly to this order? (19 kelime)

That person may slip

6-) What does the warning about slipping and being crushed teach? (10 kelime)

It teaches

7-) Which kinds of commands are especially important for social life in this passage? (13 kelime)

The commands connected

8-) Why are some commands compared to strings that hold things together? (8 kelime)

Because they

9-) What two results come from those bonds between Muslims? (5 kelime)

Strong

10-) What feelings are said to grow from these bonds? (5 kelime)

Strong

8sinif short-words-p66-worship-as-worldly-happiness-second-through-fifth-aspects-order-creation-social-duty-and-brotherhood - Set 2

1-) Why is turning the mind to Allah important according to the passage? (12 kelime)

Because it leads

2-) Once a person turns toward Allah, what kind of behavior should follow? (8 kelime)

The person

3-) What in the universe points to that wisdom? (13 kelime)

The excellence and

4-) In the third point, what does the comparison to connected wires show about human life? (13 kelime)

It shows that

5-) What image is used to describe the harm that may come from ignoring them? (13 kelime)

The person is

6-) According to the passage, what is the way to stay safe and upright? (12 kelime)

The way is

7-) In the fourth reason, how does obedience affect a person's place in society? (8 kelime)

It creates

8-) What do these commands protect besides outward order? (8 kelime)

They also

9-) In the fifth reason, what joins Muslims together strongly? (9 kelime)

Their shared

10-) What grows out of this foundation? (9 kelime)

Lasting brotherhood

8sinif short-words-p66-worship-as-worldly-happiness-second-through-fifth-aspects-order-creation-social-duty-and-brotherhood - Set 3

1-) What is one major effect of worship on a person's thinking according to the passage? (7 kelime)

It

2-) What inner change comes from that direction? (6 kelime)

It

3-) Why does being tied to that order matter? (11 kelime)

Because it

4-) What proof of this wisdom is pointed out in the passage? (10 kelime)

The beauty

5-) What responsibility comes with that position? (13 kelime)

A person must

6-) What warning is given for failing to do so? (20 kelime)

The warning is that a

7-) How does following commands and prohibitions affect social connections? (12 kelime)

It builds many

8-) Why are some commands especially important for rights and dignity? (13 kelime)

Because they hold

9-) What kind of relationship exists among Muslims according to the fifth section? (10 kelime)

They have

10-) What causes those ties to become deep brotherhood and love? (8 kelime)

Their shared

8sinif short-words-p66-worship-as-worldly-happiness-second-through-fifth-aspects-order-creation-social-duty-and-brotherhood - Set 4

1-) According to the passage, what does worship first do to the human mind? (6 kelime)

It

2-) According to the passage, what happens when people follow the order placed in the universe? (10 kelime)

They come

3-) What understanding grows from following that order? (7 kelime)

Understanding

4-) What does that comparison teach about the human role in the world? (20 kelime)

It teaches that people are

5-) What does the passage say people must do with those laws? (11 kelime)

They must

6-) In the fourth section, what happens to a person by obeying commands and prohibitions? (10 kelime)

The person

7-) What is one social result of living by commands and prohibitions? (8 kelime)

A person

8-) What gives Muslims strong bonds with one another in the fifth section? (9 kelime)
Shared beliefs

9-) What makes the bond between Muslims more than just a casual friendship? (10 kelime)
Shared faith

10-) Why is worship necessary if belief already exists? (15 kelime)
Because worship shows

8sinif short-words-p66-worship-as-worldly-happiness-second-through-fifth-aspects-order-creation-social-duty-and-brotherhood - Set 5

1-) What is the second point in the passage mainly teaching about worship? (16 kelime)

It teaches that worship

2-) What good result comes from living in harmony with that order? (10 kelime)

A person

3-) What shows that the universe is based on wisdom and not randomness? (8 kelime)

Its excellent

4-) What does the passage suggest a person must do with these laws and principles? (12 kelime)

The person must

5-) What can happen if a person goes against that order? (15 kelime)

The person can

6-) What is worship said to consist of in this section? (14 kelime)

It consists of

7-) Which kinds of commands especially protect community life? (13 kelime)

Commands tied to

8-) What would society lose if those “threads” were missing? (9 kelime)
Its rights

9-) What is the foundation of the strong connection among Muslims in the fifth point? (8 kelime)
The foundation

10-) How does worship help those bonds remain strong? (12 kelime)
It makes faith

8sinif short-words-p66-worship-as-worldly-happiness-second-through-fifth-aspects-order-creation-social-duty-and-brotherhood - Set 6

1-) In this passage, what does worship aim to do first in a believer's life? (9 kelime)

It aims

2-) How does the passage connect this attitude to the order of the universe? (17 kelime)

It says this attitude

3-) What deeper truth can be understood by following that order? (8 kelime)

A person

4-) What does the image of a pole with many cables attached suggest about the human being? (16 kelime)

It suggests that humans

5-) What is required from a person because of those connections? (14 kelime)

The person must

6-) What keeps a person steady according to this part of the passage? (13 kelime)

Worship keeps a

7-) What happens socially when a person follows these commands and prohibitions? (10 kelime)

The person

8-) What does the passage say would happen without these teachings?
(7 kelime)
Social

9-) According to the fifth section, what kind of ties exist between Muslims? (8 kelime)
There are

10-) Why is worship important for keeping Muslim brotherhood alive?
(15 kelime)
Because it strengthens

CEVAP ANAHTARI

8sinif short-words-p66-worship-as-worldly-happiness-second-through-fifth-aspects-order-creation-social-duty-and-brotherhood - Set 1 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What is the main purpose of worship in the first paragraph of the passage?

Its main purpose is to turn people's minds toward Allah, the All-Wise Creator.

2-) What two qualities come from that direction of the mind?

It brings about obedience and submission.

3-) What does the passage say shows that this wisdom is real?

The precise and beautiful design seen throughout the universe shows it.

4-) What evidence of that wisdom is mentioned?

The universe's precise craftsmanship is mentioned as evidence.

5-) What danger is mentioned if a person does not hold firmly to this order?

That person may slip away from the right path and be harmed by the working system of the world.

6-) What does the warning about slipping and being crushed teach?

It teaches that ignoring the right order can bring destruction.

7-) Which kinds of commands are especially important for social life in this passage?

The commands connected to the public signs of Islam and the common good.

8-) Why are some commands compared to strings that hold things together?

Because they preserve dignity and keep rights organized.

9-) What two results come from those bonds between Muslims?

Strong brotherhood and sincere love.

10-) What feelings are said to grow from these bonds?

Strong brotherhood and genuine love.

8sinif short-words-p66-worship-as-worldly-happiness-second-through-fifth-aspects-order-creation-social-duty-and-brotherhood - Set 2 - CEVAPLAR

1-) Why is turning the mind to Allah important according to the passage?

Because it leads a person to obey Him and accept His rule.

2-) Once a person turns toward Allah, what kind of behavior should follow?

The person should respond with obedience and submission.

3-) What in the universe points to that wisdom?

The excellence and skill seen in everything in the universe point to it.

4-) In the third point, what does the comparison to connected wires show about human life?

It shows that human life is tied to many divine and created laws.

5-) What image is used to describe the harm that may come from ignoring them?

The person is pictured as falling and being crushed by a moving machine.

6-) According to the passage, what is the way to stay safe and upright?

The way is worship through obedience to commands and avoidance of prohibitions.

7-) In the fourth reason, how does obedience affect a person's place in society?

It creates many relationships and responsibilities within society.

8-) What do these commands protect besides outward order?

They also protect people's honor and their rights.

9-) In the fifth reason, what joins Muslims together strongly?

Their shared belief and Islamic qualities join them together.

10-) What grows out of this foundation?

Lasting brotherhood and sincere love grow out of it.

8sinif short-words-p66-worship-as-worldly-happiness-second-through-fifth-aspects-order-creation-social-duty-and-brotherhood - Set 3 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What is one major effect of worship on a person's thinking according to the passage?

It turns the person's thoughts toward Allah.

2-) What inner change comes from that direction?

It produces obedience and humble acceptance.

3-) Why does being tied to that order matter?

Because it helps the person understand the wisdom built into creation.

4-) What proof of this wisdom is pointed out in the passage?

The beauty and perfection in the universe's design are proof.

5-) What responsibility comes with that position?

A person must align with those laws and stay attached to them properly.

6-) What warning is given for failing to do so?

The warning is that a person may slip and be crushed by the powerful system at work in the world.

7-) How does following commands and prohibitions affect social connections?

It builds many links between the person and different levels of society.

8-) Why are some commands especially important for rights and dignity?

Because they hold together people's honor and keep their rights in proper order.

9-) What kind of relationship exists among Muslims according to the fifth section?

They have firm relationships and strong ties with one another.

10-) What causes those ties to become deep brotherhood and love?

Their shared faith and Islamic qualities cause that.

8sinif short-words-p66-worship-as-worldly-happiness- second-through-fifth-aspects-order-creation-social-duty- and-brotherhood - Set 4 - CEVAPLAR

1-) According to the passage, what does worship first do to the human mind?

It directs the mind toward Allah.

2-) According to the passage, what happens when people follow the order placed in the universe?

They come to understand the wisdom in creation more clearly.

3-) What understanding grows from following that order?

Understanding of divine wisdom grows from it.

4-) What does that comparison teach about the human role in the world?

It teaches that people are linked to many laws and patterns in creation and must live in harmony with them.

5-) What does the passage say people must do with those laws?

They must fulfill them, follow them, and hold tightly to them.

6-) In the fourth section, what happens to a person by obeying commands and prohibitions?

The person forms many ties with different parts of society.

7-) What is one social result of living by commands and prohibitions?

A person gains many meaningful ties within society.

8-) What gives Muslims strong bonds with one another in the fifth section?

Shared beliefs and Islamic character give them strong bonds.

9-) What makes the bond between Muslims more than just a casual friendship?

Shared faith and Islamic manners make it deep and firm.

10-) Why is worship necessary if belief already exists?

Because worship shows belief openly, makes it active, and fixes it firmly inside the soul.

8sinif short-words-p66-worship-as-worldly-happiness-second-through-fifth-aspects-order-creation-social-duty-and-brotherhood - Set 5 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What is the second point in the passage mainly teaching about worship?

It teaches that worship turns people toward Allah and helps them live under His wise order.

2-) What good result comes from living in harmony with that order?
A person reaches an understanding of the wisdom behind creation.

3-) What shows that the universe is based on wisdom and not randomness?

Its excellent design and careful making show that.

4-) What does the passage suggest a person must do with these laws and principles?

The person must complete them by following them and holding onto them.

5-) What can happen if a person goes against that order?

The person can fall into harm and be overwhelmed by the system of the world.

6-) What is worship said to consist of in this section?

It consists of following what Allah commands and staying away from what He forbids.

7-) Which kinds of commands especially protect community life?

Commands tied to Islamic public practices and the common welfare especially protect it.

8-) What would society lose if those “threads” were missing?

Its rights and duties would become broken and scattered.

9-) What is the foundation of the strong connection among Muslims in the fifth point?

The foundation is shared belief and Islamic character.

10-) How does worship help those bonds remain strong?

It makes faith active and plants it deeply in people’s inner lives.

8sinif short-words-p66-worship-as-worldly-happiness-second-through-fifth-aspects-order-creation-social-duty-and-brotherhood - Set 6 - CEVAPLAR

1-) In this passage, what does worship aim to do first in a believer's life?

It aims to direct the believer's mind toward Allah.

2-) How does the passage connect this attitude to the order of the universe?

It says this attitude places a person within that perfect order and ties the person to it.

3-) What deeper truth can be understood by following that order?

A person can understand the wisdom behind creation.

4-) What does the image of a pole with many cables attached suggest about the human being?

It suggests that humans stand at a meeting point of many laws and forces in creation.

5-) What is required from a person because of those connections?

The person must remain attached to those laws and act in agreement with them.

6-) What keeps a person steady according to this part of the passage?

Worship keeps a person steady by guiding actions through divine commands and prohibitions.

7-) What happens socially when a person follows these commands and prohibitions?

The person develops many bonds with different parts of society.

8-) What does the passage say would happen without these teachings?

Social responsibilities and rights would come apart.

9-) According to the fifth section, what kind of ties exist between Muslims?

There are firm and strong ties between them.

10-) Why is worship important for keeping Muslim brotherhood alive?

Because it strengthens belief in real life and roots it firmly in the inner self.