Cevap 4 Allah is the true owner and giver.	Cevap 3 It means dealing with blessings without awareness of Allah.	Cevap 2 Human beings should also live with Allah's name on their actions.	Cevap 1 Because all blessings come from Allah, so people should begin what they do by remembering Him and connecting their actions to Him.
Cevap 8 Praising the visible means of a blessing while forgetting Allah, the real giver.	Cevap 7 It means noticing Allah's amazing creation in blessings and thinking deeply about His power and mercy behind them.	Cevap 6 Thanks.	Cevap 5 Remembering Allah.
Cevap 12 We should not receive from those who neglect Allah in what they give.	Cevap 11 It suggests that this is a heedless and wrong way to receive blessings.	Cevap 10 Blessings should lead a person back to Allah, not make the person stop at created things.	Cevap 9 Showing special honor to the servant while ignoring the ruler who sent the gift.

13 Are the things Allah asks for material payment or acts of the heart and tongue?	14 How is remembrance practiced at the beginning of an action?	15 How does saying "In the Name of Allah" fit into those three parts?	16 Why are blessings described as extremely valuable?

Cevap 16 Because they are signs of Allah's power and mercy, not ordinary or meaningless things.	Cevap 15 It is part of remembering Allah.	Cevap 14 By saying "In the Name of Allah."	Cevap 13 They are acts of the heart and tongue: remembrance, thanks, and reflection.
Cevap 20 The passage uses the example of a ruler sending a precious gift through a servant.	Cevap 19 It asks what return Allah wants from people for the blessings He gives.	Cevap 18 Because Allah is the real giver of every blessing, so ignoring Him is a much greater form of foolishness.	Cevap 17 It warns against honoring the go-between while ignoring the true giver.
Cevap 24 It means the response Allah asks from us for His gifts.	Cevap 23 Remembrance, thanks, and reflection.	Cevap 22 It is compared to honoring a low servant for a valuable gift and not noticing the ruler who sent it.	Cevap 21 Remembering Allah, thanking Allah, and reflecting on His blessings.
