1-) What main topic is being introduced in this passage?

It introduces the wisdom behind why the five daily prayers are tied to specific times.

2-) How does the passage describe each prayer time in relation to events in creation and life?

Each one is presented as the beginning of a significant turning point and as a sign reflecting Allah's power and gifts.

3-) Why are glorification and praise especially fitting at the times of prayer?

Because those times gather many blessings and show Allah's actions in the world, so they call for more worship, praise, and gratitude.

4-) What is meant by the prescribed prayers in this passage?

They are acts of worship through which a believer glorifies Allah, praises Him, and thanks Him.

5-) What does the speaker say he will explain about the prayer times?

He says he will mention only one aspect of the wisdom found in them, not every aspect.

6-) According to the passage, what should the listener do in order to understand this deeper meaning?

The listener should pay close attention along with the speaker's own lower self and consider the five points that will follow.

7-) How does the passage connect prayer times with both Allah's power and His mercy?

The times reveal His management of the universe and also remind people of the many blessings He gives, so they call for awe and thankfulness.

The five obligatory prayers performed each day.

2-) What question is being answered in the passage?

It is answering why the five prayers are assigned to particular times.

3-) What two roles does each prayer time play according to the passage?

Each time marks an important shift and also reflects divine activity and blessings.

4-) What response is required from people at those times?

They are to glorify Allah more, honor Him, and thank Him for His many favors.

5-) Why does the passage speak of blessings being accumulated?

To show that each prayer comes after a stretch of time filled with gifts from Allah that deserve gratitude.

6-) What does this suggest about the relationship between time and worship?

It suggests that time is not empty; it carries signs and blessings that should lead a person to worship.

7-) Does the passage claim to give a full explanation of the wisdom of prayer times or a limited one? Explain.

It gives a limited explanation, because only one example of that wisdom is being pointed out.

lisans short-words-p34-ninth-word-why-the-five-daily-prayers-are-assigned-to-their-times - Set 3 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What Qur'anic idea appears at the start of the passage before the explanation begins?

It begins with a call to glorify and praise Allah at different parts of the day.

2-) How does that opening idea support the discussion that follows?

It sets the foundation for explaining why worship is connected to certain times of day.

3-) In the passage, what does each prayer time show about Allah's action in the world?

It shows His ordering, control, and giving of blessings in the universe.

4-) Why are the prayers described as prescribed at those times?

Because those moments are especially suitable for remembering Allah and thanking Him.

5-) What is the meaning of saying that prayer times are mirrors?

It means they reflect signs of Allah's power and the blessings He sends into creation.

6-) What kind of meaning does the speaker call subtle and profound?

The deeper wisdom behind the prayer times and why worship is linked to them.

7-) What does the mention of the speaker's own nafs add to the passage?

It shows humility and suggests that the reminder is meant for both the speaker and the listener.

lisans short-words-p34-ninth-word-why-the-five-daily-prayers-are-assigned-to-their-times - Set 4 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What is the central claim made about the times of the five daily prayers?

The claim is that those times were chosen with wisdom because they correspond to meaningful changes and divine blessings.

2-) What does the passage say happens at each of these times besides a change in the day?

Each time also points to Allah's power at work and the widespread favors found within that activity.

3-) What three devotional responses are emphasized in the passage? Glorifying Allah, praising Him, and thanking Him.

4-) How does the passage help a student move from surface understanding to deeper reflection?

It first gives the main principle, then invites the listener to study five points in order to grasp the deeper meaning.

5-) Why is the expression about innumerable blessings important? It shows that divine gifts are far more abundant than people usually recognize.

6-) What is the purpose of introducing five points at the end?

It prepares the reader for a structured explanation of the wisdom of prayer times.

7-) How would you summarize the passage in one sentence?

The passage teaches that the five prayer times are wisely appointed moments for recognizing Allah's power, remembering His blessings, and responding with worship.

lisans short-words-p34-ninth-word-why-the-five-daily-prayers-are-assigned-to-their-times - Set 5 - CEVAPLAR
