

1 What is the main point of the comparison between the two travelers?	2 What does the first man's direction in travel suggest about his life orientation?	3 What repeated kinds of scenes fill the first man's vision of the country?	4 What part of him is described as suffering most deeply?
lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison
5 How does he experience the land differently from the first man?	6 What sounds show that he sees purpose and faith in public life?	7 Why was the second man happy instead of miserable?	8 In the second man's correction, what role does the heart play?
lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison
9 What role do visible signs in the country play in correcting the first man?	10 What does the phrase about being saved from a hellish state mean in context?	11 How does the passage connect belief in Allah with human happiness?	12 What does the first man's selfishness suggest about the center of his life?
lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison

Cevap 4 His conscience is the part left in torment.	Cevap 3 He keeps seeing oppression, helplessness, sorrow, death, and abandonment.	Cevap 2 It suggests that he chose a path guided by ego and bad judgment rather than by faith and goodness.	Cevap 1 It shows that belief in Allah changes how a person sees life, bringing peace, meaning, and hope, while a selfish and faithless outlook turns life into fear, grief, and inner suffering.
Cevap 8 A purified heart allows a person to see reality rightly instead of through a distorted lens.	Cevap 7 He was pleased both by his own condition and by the good condition he saw in the people around him.	Cevap 6 He hears joyful expressions of praise, thanks, and the declaration of Allah's greatness and oneness.	Cevap 5 He experiences it as joyful, worshipful, welcoming, and full of meaning.
Cevap 12 It suggests that his own ego is the center of his outlook.	Cevap 11 It presents belief as the source of joy, blessing, comfort, and ease in life.	Cevap 10 It means he was rescued from an inner condition of misery, confusion, and spiritual suffering.	Cevap 9 They serve as evidence that reality is better ordered and more hopeful than he had imagined.

13 What details show that the first man feels cut off from others?	14 Why is his conscience important in the story?	15 How does the second traveler read the same land?	16 How did the second man view the people around him?
lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison
17 What does the second man's successful trade add to the message of the passage?	18 According to the passage, what must happen before the first man can see correctly?	19 How do the signs of development in the country function in the argument?	20 What does the whole story teach about seeing the world?
lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison
21 What invitation is given at the beginning of the passage before the story starts?	22 What is the first major difference between them?	23 What effect does this interpretation have on the whole land in his eyes?	24 What does the passage suggest about escaping pain through intoxication?
lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison	lisans short-words-p05-second-word-happiness-and-blessing-in-belief-opening-comparison

Cevap 16 He saw them as friends and like family.	Cevap 15 He reads it as a place of celebration, remembrance of Allah, and shared joy.	Cevap 14 It shows that his false outlook is not neutral; it deeply wounds his inner being.	Cevap 13 He believes everyone is either an enemy or a stranger.
Cevap 20 It teaches that the state of the heart strongly shapes whether a person sees the world truthfully or through a veil of despair.	Cevap 19 They show that the land bears marks of wise governance, not total corruption.	Cevap 18 His heart must be cleansed and his confusion removed.	Cevap 17 It shows that faith brings not only spiritual peace but also practical benefit and healthy engagement with life.
Cevap 24 It suggests that such escape is false and does not cure the real problem.	Cevap 23 It turns the entire land into a place of grief.	Cevap 22 One chooses a self-directed harmful course, while the other follows a godly and blessed course.	Cevap 21 The reader is invited to understand how belief in Allah brings great happiness, blessing, pleasure, and ease.