

1 According to the passage, what Qur'anic message is presented at the start of this section?	2 What does the passage say a person should understand about giving oneself and one's property to Allah?	3 Besides being profitable, what two roles are mentioned for the person who gives himself to Allah?	4 What teaching method does the passage announce in order to explain this idea?
lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust
5 In this passage, what two things are described as being offered to Allah?	6 What reward is tied to this offering in the verse cited here?	7 What is the main point of this short passage?	8 How is the status of the person who does this described?
lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust
9 What does the passage invite the reader to do if he wants to grasp this teaching?	10 Which group of people is mentioned in the verse as making this exchange?	11 What does the wording suggest about the relationship between the believer and Allah in this exchange?	12 Why is the exchange described as profitable?
lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust

Cevap 4 It says the idea will be explained through a comparison.	Cevap 3 He becomes Allah's servant and His soldier.	Cevap 2 It is a highly beneficial exchange and a deeply honorable position.	Cevap 1 Allah takes from the believers their lives and wealth, and in return they receive Paradise.
Cevap 8 It is presented as noble and full of dignity.	Cevap 7 Dedicating one's life and belongings to Allah is a gain, not a loss.	Cevap 6 Paradise.	Cevap 5 One's self and one's possessions.
Cevap 12 Because what is given is exchanged for Paradise.	Cevap 11 The believer willingly gives what he has to Allah and receives a far greater reward.	Cevap 10 The believers.	Cevap 9 To listen to the comparison that follows.

13 What does the verse in this passage say Allah receives from believers?	14 What does Allah give in return, according to the verse?	15 How does the passage describe the spiritual position of the one who makes this exchange?	16 What feeling should a reader come away with about this exchange based on the passage's wording?
lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust
17 Does the passage present this exchange as degrading or uplifting? Explain briefly.	18 What literary device is promised to make the meaning easier to understand?	19 In simple terms, what "trade" is being discussed in this passage?	20 What two positive qualities are attached to this trade before the comparison even begins?
lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust
21 What does the phrase about being Allah's servant and soldier suggest about a believer's life?	22 What is the purpose of the comparison mentioned at the end of the passage?	23 What outcome is promised to believers in the verse quoted here?	24 What does the passage say about the value of surrendering oneself and one's property to Allah?
lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust	lisans short-words-p15-sixth-word-selling-the-nafs-and-property-to-allah-the-kings-trust

Cevap 16 That it is a wise, rewarding, and honorable choice.	Cevap 15 As a servant of Allah and as one who stands in His service like a soldier.	Cevap 14 Paradise.	Cevap 13 Their persons and their property.
Cevap 20 It is described as beneficial and honorable.	Cevap 19 Giving one's life and wealth to Allah in exchange for Paradise.	Cevap 18 An illustrative comparison.	Cevap 17 It presents it as uplifting because it joins great benefit with honor.
Cevap 24 It says this is extremely rewarding.	Cevap 23 They are promised Paradise.	Cevap 22 To help the reader understand the value of this exchange more clearly.	Cevap 21 It suggests a life of obedience, loyalty, and service to Allah.