Cevap 4 It serves like proof or a record in one's favor when judgment takes place.	Cevap 3 It is not due to lack of ability but to distorted priorities.	Cevap 2 People can stay committed when money or threats are involved.	Cevap 1 Its feeling that worship, especially the required prayers, is tiring and not worth the effort.
Cevap 8 It should awaken serious motivation and not leave a person careless.	Cevap 7 It is portrayed as light and even pleasant, not harsh or crushing.	Cevap 6 It functions like illumination and transport.	Cevap 5 The crossing over the Sirat is mentioned, and prayer is linked to guidance and assistance there.
Cevap 12 It is inconsistent, because it responds to small worldly motives but drifts in front of huge eternal ones.	Cevap 11 Because the nafs is treating worship as if it gives little back, and the passage argues the opposite.	Cevap 10 Worship is full of benefit and reward, so becoming tired of it makes no sense.	Cevap 9 The person makes himself deserving of stern rebuke and fearful punishment.

Cevap 16 It points to serving without love, gratitude, or willing obedience.	Cevap 15 Allah's reward is far greater and reaches eternal happiness.	Cevap 14 To remind the reader that worship matters not only now but also at the time of final accountability.	Cevap 13 People will endure long effort for an uncertain human promise, so they should all the more respond to Allah's certain promise.
Cevap 20 It shows that people readily accept effort for limited worldly reasons.	Cevap 19 The person acts as if worship has no meaningful outcome.	Cevap 18 Fear of temporary jail can make people work hard, so fear of everlasting punishment should move them even more.	Cevap 17 Neglecting it, suspecting the promise behind it, or doing it with reluctance and weak commitment.
Cevap 24 Worldly effort may continue for a long time, while the service asked in worship is brief.	Cevap 23 It stands as supporting evidence for the person.	Cevap 22 It becomes evidence that can stand with a person when accountability comes.	Cevap 21 It becomes a source of nourishment and brightness there.
