

lisans short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 1

1-) According to the opening of the passage, what two phrases are presented as the key to solving the world's mystery and rescuing the human spirit from darkness? (7 kelime)

Calling

2-) What does the passage say happens to the world if true religion is absent? (5 kelime)

It

3-) How does the passage describe the human condition without religion? (8 kelime)

Human beings

4-) In the comparison, what did the two brothers ask the serious man at the fork in the road? (6 kelime)

They

5-) How did the man describe the path on the right? (12 kelime)

It required discipline

6-) How did the man describe the path on the left? (12 kelime)

It offered freedom

7-) Which brother chose the right path, and what inner quality is linked to that choice? (19 kelime)

The brother with good

8-) Why did the other brother choose the left path? (14 kelime)

He wanted a

9-) What contrast does the passage make between how the left-hand road first seemed and what it really was? (13 kelime)

It looked easy

10-) What main lesson about religion and human life is introduced before the story of the two brothers begins? (23 kelime)

True religion gives meaning, freedom

lisans short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 2

1-) What larger subjects does the passage say can be understood through the comparison that follows? (20 kelime)

The world, the human spirit,

2-) What Qur'anic truths are stated before the comparison begins? (20 kelime)

Allah alone is worthy of

3-) Where were the brothers when they met the serious-looking man? (12 kelime)

They were at

4-) What choice was placed before them by the man at the fork? (17 kelime)

They had to choose

5-) What does the right-hand path suggest about the relationship between limits and human good? (11 kelime)

Limits can

6-) What does the left-hand path suggest about unrestricted freedom? (9 kelime)

Freedom without

7-) What words did the good brother say before taking the right path, and what do those words show? (10 kelime)

He expressed

8-) How is the second brother morally described in contrast to the first? (13 kelime)

He is portrayed

9-) Why does the passage invite the reader to follow the second brother first? (13 kelime)

To show that

10-) What is the main contrast set up by the opening scene of the comparison? (13 kelime)

One way joins

lisans short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 3

1-) What does the passage say a person will understand if he reflects carefully on the comparison? (17 kelime)

He will understand the

2-) According to the passage, what delivers the human spirit from darkness? (10 kelime)
Turning to

3-) In the comparison, what kind of journey do the brothers begin? (5 kelime)
They

4-) What was the first major decision they had to make on that journey? (8 kelime)
They had

5-) What burden comes with the right road? (9 kelime)
A person

6-) What benefit comes with that burden? (5 kelime)
It

7-) What attraction comes with the left road? (5 kelime)
It

8-) What hidden cost comes with the left road? (6 kelime)
It

9-) How does the response of the good brother reveal his mindset before he starts walking? (16 kelime)
He begins with trust

10-) What early judgment does the passage make about the second brother's choice? (13 kelime)
His path only

lisans short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 4

1-) What does the passage connect with understanding the value of religion for human beings? (12 kelime)

It connects religion

2-) How does the passage describe the condition of the world when true religion is missing? (11 kelime)

It is

3-) What does the passage imply about the spiritual effect of saying "O Allah" and declaring Allah's oneness? (13 kelime)

These turn a

4-) What simple story framework is used to explain these ideas? (8 kelime)

A comparison

5-) What role does the serious-looking man play in the story? (11 kelime)

He explains

6-) In moral terms, how are the two roads different? (17 kelime)

One is shaped by

7-) What does the better brother do after hearing the warning about the roads? (10 kelime)

He entrusts

8-) What does the worse brother value more than safety or happiness? (4 kelime)

He

9-) Why is the left road not truly easier according to the passage? (8 kelime)

Because the

10-) What broad lesson does this opening comparison teach about guidance? (18 kelime)

Divine guidance may ask

lisans short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 5

1-) What three big themes are named before the comparison starts? (19 kelime)

The nature of the

2-) What does the passage say religion prevents the world from becoming for a person? (2 kelime)

3-) Without religion, what kind of state does the passage say human beings fall into? (5 kelime)

A

4-) What action begins the comparison between the two brothers? (8 kelime)

They set

5-) What information did they seek from the man they met at the split in the road? (10 kelime)

Guidance about

6-) What is paired together on the right side of the fork? (9 kelime)

Obligation and

7-) What is paired together on the left side of the fork? (9 kelime)

Lack of

8-) What does the good brother's choice show about his relationship to guidance? (11 kelime)

He is

9-) What does the bad brother's choice show about his desires? (13 kelime)

He prefers immediate

10-) Why does the passage say we follow the second brother in imagination? (14 kelime)

So we can

lisans short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 6

1-) What does the passage say someone can come to understand about religion if he listens to the comparison? (17 kelime)

He can understand its

2-) Which religion is named as the one accepted before Allah in this passage? (1 kelime)

3-) What picture does the passage use to describe life in the world without true religion? (5 kelime)
It

4-) What is the spiritual result of calling on Allah and affirming His oneness, according to the passage? (8 kelime)

The inner

5-) In the story, what choice stands before the two brothers? (11 kelime)

They must

6-) Why is the road on the right not simply a road of hardship? (12 kelime)

Because its discipline

7-) Why is the road on the left not truly a road of freedom? (10 kelime)

Because its

8-) What personal quality is especially emphasized in the brother who takes the right path? (2 kelime)

9-) What personal flaws are emphasized in the brother who takes the left path? (5 kelime)

He

10-) What central contrast does the final sentence of the target passage underline about appearances? (18 kelime)

What seems easy may

CEVAP ANAHTARI

lisans short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 1 - CEVAPLAR

1-) According to the opening of the passage, what two phrases are presented as the key to solving the world's mystery and rescuing the human spirit from darkness?

Calling on Allah and affirming His oneness.

2-) What does the passage say happens to the world if true religion is absent?

It becomes like a prison.

3-) How does the passage describe the human condition without religion?

Human beings become the most miserable of creatures.

4-) In the comparison, what did the two brothers ask the serious man at the fork in the road?

They asked which path was better.

5-) How did the man describe the path on the right?

It required discipline and obedience, but it led to safety and well-being.

6-) How did the man describe the path on the left?

It offered freedom from restraint, but it led to danger and misery.

7-) Which brother chose the right path, and what inner quality is linked to that choice?

The brother with good character chose it, and his choice is linked to trust in Allah and moral uprightness.

8-) Why did the other brother choose the left path?

He wanted a way without restrictions and was driven by laziness and bad character.

9-) What contrast does the passage make between how the left-hand road first seemed and what it really was?

It looked easy on the surface, but it was actually heavy and difficult.

10-) What main lesson about religion and human life is introduced before the story of the two brothers begins?

True religion gives meaning, freedom from darkness, and a way out of misery, while life without it traps and harms the human spirit.

lisans short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 2 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What larger subjects does the passage say can be understood through the comparison that follows?

The world, the human spirit, the place of religion in human life, and why life without true religion becomes miserable.

2-) What Qur'anic truths are stated before the comparison begins?

Allah alone is worthy of worship, He is living and sustaining all, and Islam is the religion accepted before Him.

3-) Where were the brothers when they met the serious-looking man?

They were at a place where the road split into two directions.

4-) What choice was placed before them by the man at the fork?

They had to choose between an ordered path with effort and a lawless path with apparent ease.

5-) What does the right-hand path suggest about the relationship between limits and human good?

Limits can protect a person and lead to peace and happiness.

6-) What does the left-hand path suggest about unrestricted freedom?

Freedom without guidance can bring harm, instability, and suffering.

7-) What words did the good brother say before taking the right path, and what do those words show?

He expressed reliance on Allah, which shows trust and submission.

8-) How is the second brother morally described in contrast to the first?

He is portrayed as undisciplined and morally weak, unlike the upright first brother.

9-) Why does the passage invite the reader to follow the second brother first?

To show that what looks comfortable at first can actually become a burden.

10-) What is the main contrast set up by the opening scene of the comparison?

One way joins obedience with safety, while the other joins self-indulgence with ruin.

lisans short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 3 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What does the passage say a person will understand if he reflects carefully on the comparison?

He will understand the meaning of the world, the human spirit, and the necessity of true religion.

2-) According to the passage, what delivers the human spirit from darkness?

Turning to Allah and affirming that only He is God.

3-) In the comparison, what kind of journey do the brothers begin?

They begin a long journey.

4-) What was the first major decision they had to make on that journey?

They had to choose between two different roads.

5-) What burden comes with the right road?

A person must live under order, law, and restraint.

6-) What benefit comes with that burden?

It brings security and happiness.

7-) What attraction comes with the left road?

It seems open and unrestricted.

8-) What hidden cost comes with the left road?

It leads to danger and wretchedness.

9-) How does the response of the good brother reveal his mindset before he starts walking?

He begins with trust in Allah and accepts guidance rather than relying on his own impulses.

10-) What early judgment does the passage make about the second brother's choice?

His path only appears easy, but in truth it is oppressive and hard.

lisans short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 4 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What does the passage connect with understanding the value of religion for human beings?

It connects religion with understanding both the world and the human soul.

2-) How does the passage describe the condition of the world when true religion is missing?

It is like a place of confinement rather than real freedom.

3-) What does the passage imply about the spiritual effect of saying "O Allah" and declaring Allah's oneness?

These turn a person toward truth and bring light to the inner life.

4-) What simple story framework is used to explain these ideas?

A comparison between two brothers taking different roads.

5-) What role does the serious-looking man play in the story?

He explains the consequences of each road before the brothers choose.

6-) In moral terms, how are the two roads different?

One is shaped by discipline and protection, while the other is shaped by unchecked freedom and harm.

7-) What does the better brother do after hearing the warning about the roads?

He entrusts himself to Allah and follows the regulated path.

8-) What does the worse brother value more than safety or happiness?

He values being unrestrained.

9-) Why is the left road not truly easier according to the passage?

Because the comfort it promises hides deeper hardship.

10-) What broad lesson does this opening comparison teach about guidance?

Divine guidance may ask for self-control, but it leads to real peace, while rejecting guidance leads to suffering.

lisans short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 5 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What three big themes are named before the comparison starts?

The nature of the world, the reality of the human spirit, and the importance of religion for human beings.

2-) What does the passage say religion prevents the world from becoming for a person?

A prison.

3-) Without religion, what kind of state does the passage say human beings fall into?

A state of extreme misery.

4-) What action begins the comparison between the two brothers?

They set out together on a long trip.

5-) What information did they seek from the man they met at the split in the road?

Guidance about which way was the better one to take.

6-) What is paired together on the right side of the fork?

Obligation and order are paired with security and happiness.

7-) What is paired together on the left side of the fork?

Lack of restraint is paired with danger and unhappiness.

8-) What does the good brother's choice show about his relationship to guidance?

He is willing to accept guidance and live within rightful limits.

9-) What does the bad brother's choice show about his desires?

He prefers immediate ease and freedom from rules over what is truly good.

10-) Why does the passage say we follow the second brother in imagination?

So we can see how a seemingly easy path can become painful in reality.

lisans short-words-p27-eighth-word-religion-and-worldly-life-choosing-between-two-roads - Set 6 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What does the passage say someone can come to understand about religion if he listens to the comparison?

He can understand its true worth for human life and why it saves a person from misery.

2-) Which religion is named as the one accepted before Allah in this passage?

Islam.

3-) What picture does the passage use to describe life in the world without true religion?

It compares it to imprisonment.

4-) What is the spiritual result of calling on Allah and affirming His oneness, according to the passage?

The inner human being is rescued from darkness.

5-) In the story, what choice stands before the two brothers?

They must choose between a disciplined road and an unrestricted road.

6-) Why is the road on the right not simply a road of hardship?

Because its discipline protects a person and leads to peace and happiness.

7-) Why is the road on the left not truly a road of freedom?

Because its lack of restraint ends in danger and misery.

8-) What personal quality is especially emphasized in the brother who takes the right path?

Good character.

9-) What personal flaws are emphasized in the brother who takes the left path?

He is immoral and lazy.

10-) What central contrast does the final sentence of the target passage underline about appearances?

What seems easy may actually be burdensome, and what seems demanding may be the safer and better way.