11sinif supreme-sign-p19-the-testimony-of-the-seas-and-rivers-4th-degree-rivers-flowing-from-the-treasury-of-mercy-and-the-example-of-the-nile - Set 1 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What did the traveller notice in the sea besides beautiful gems?
He saw many different sea creatures living there in an orderly and controlled way.

2-) In the sea, what combination of things does the traveller observe?
He observes both attractive treasures and countless living creatures.

3-) What conclusion did the traveller draw from what he saw in the depths of the sea?

He understood that a mighty, glorious, merciful, and beautiful Creator is managing and giving life to them.

4-) Why is it significant that sea creatures are fed in a place of sand and salty water?

It shows that their provision comes from a wisdom beyond what their environment seems to offer.

5-) According to the passage, where do rivers, springs, streams, and major waterways truly come from?

They come from the treasury of mercy of Allah, the Compassionate and Generous Lord.

6-) What source is given for rivers, springs, and streams?

They are said to come from the storehouse of divine mercy.

7-) In this passage, what does "Paradise" suggest about the source of those rivers?

It suggests an unseen, non-material, and never-ending source.

8-) What effect of the Nile is highlighted?

It turns a dry region of Egypt into a place of life and beauty.

9-) What does the passage say about rainfall in the Nile's hot region?

It says the rain there is limited and quickly absorbed by the dry ground.

10-) How does the climate of the region weaken the rainfall explanation?

The area is very hot, the rain is limited, and the ground quickly drinks it up.

11sinif supreme-sign-p19-the-testimony-of-the-seas-and-rivers-4th-degree-rivers-flowing-from-the-treasury-of-mercy-and-the-example-of-the-nile - Set 2 - CEVAPLAR

1-) In the section about the sea, what balance does the traveller observe between beauty and life?

He sees both attractive treasures and many living creatures, showing that the sea contains beauty as well as purposeful life.

2-) Which stages of those creatures' existence are specifically under control?

Their being fed, arranged, given life, and caused to die.

3-) Why would getting provision from sand and salt water strengthen that belief?

Because such provision seems impossible through the material surroundings alone, so it points to divine care.

4-) In the river section, what signs point to wise care?

Their benefits, their important functions, and their steady renewal.

5-) How does the passage use the phrase about four rivers from Paradise?

It presents it as a way of expressing that those rivers have a source beyond what appears outwardly.

6-) Why is the statement about four rivers from Paradise included?

It emphasizes that the reality of these rivers is higher than what material causes alone can explain.

7-) How does the passage compare the river's six months of water to the mountains?

It says that if that water were collected and frozen, it would become larger than the mountains it supposedly comes from.

8-) What mathematical or physical mismatch does the passage point out about the Nile?

The river's enormous output does not match the much smaller visible storage in the mountains.

9-) Based on the passage, what is the difference between visible explanation and unseen source?

Visible explanation depends on physical storage and rainfall, while the unseen source points to Allah's hidden generosity and power.

10-) Does the passage treat that tradition as meaningless?

No; it says the tradition carries deep significance and expresses a real insight.

11sinif supreme-sign-p19-the-testimony-of-the-seas-and-rivers-4th-degree-rivers-flowing-from-the-treasury-of-mercy-and-the-example-of-the-nile - Set 3 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What did the traveller see when he looked deep into the sea?

He saw precious underwater beauty and many kinds of living creatures.

2-) How does the passage show that sea life is not neglected?

It shows that sea creatures are sustained and managed with discipline.

3-) Why is the source of their provision important to the traveller's reflection?

Because their surroundings do not seem sufficient to produce such careful sustenance on their own.

4-) What does the traveller notice next when he reflects on rivers?

He notices how useful they are, what services they provide, and how they continue to be supplied.

5-) Why does the passage say their preservation and distribution are extraordinary?

Because they continue in an amazing way that goes far beyond what ordinary material causes seem able to do.

6-) How does the passage describe the source of some famous rivers in relation to Paradise?

It presents them as linked to an unseen and non-material source that Paradise symbolizes.

7-) What special role of the Nile is mentioned?

It makes Egypt's barren land fruitful and pleasant.

8-) What transformation caused by the Nile is emphasized?

It changes Egypt's desert-like land into a place resembling a garden.

9-) What inference does the passage invite from these limits?

It invites the reader to see the Nile as a sign of provision from beyond visible causes.

10-) What final judgment is given about the tradition concerning the Nile's hidden source?

It is treated as meaningful and as expressing a beautiful truth.

11sinif supreme-sign-p19-the-testimony-of-the-seas-and-rivers-4th-degree-rivers-flowing-from-the-treasury-of-mercy-and-the-example-of-the-nile - Set 4 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What two broad parts of nature are examined in the marked passage?

The passage looks at the deep sea and at rivers.

2-) Why is their food described as especially striking?

Because they are provided for even though their environment seems to offer only sand and salty water.

3-) What does such discipline suggest about the One in control?

It suggests a ruler who has both great power and great mercy.

4-) What do the rivers' benefits and steady renewal point to?

They point to wisdom and mercy behind them.

5-) What do those features of rivers prove in the passage?

They prove the presence of wisdom and mercy in how they are made and sustained.

6-) Why does the passage mention the saying that four rivers come from Paradise?

It uses that saying to show that their source cannot be explained fully by ordinary visible causes.

7-) What river is used as a case study?

The Nile.

8-) Why is the Nile presented as difficult to explain by normal physical causes alone?

Because the amount of water it provides is far greater than what its mountain storage and local rainfall seem able to account for.

9-) How does the text challenge the idea that the mountains alone supply the Nile?

It says the mountain storage area is far too small compared with the amount of water that comes out.

10-) How does the passage judge that tradition?

It says the tradition carries deep meaning and expresses a fine truth.

11sinif supreme-sign-p19-the-testimony-of-the-seas-and-rivers-4th-degree-rivers-flowing-from-the-treasury-of-mercy-and-the-example-of-the-nile - Set 5 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What does the traveller's look into the sea reveal about life there? It reveals a great variety of sea animals living under careful organization.

2-) What does this order in marine life lead the traveller to believe? It leads him to believe in the existence of a powerful and merciful Lord who governs them.

3-) What attributes of the Creator are reflected in the sea section? Power, majesty, mercy, and beauty.

4-) What larger claim is made about all flowing waters? They are said to come from divine mercy rather than from material causes by themselves.

5-) What does the passage mean by saying they are dispensed in an extraordinary way?

Their flow and distribution show a remarkable care that goes beyond normal expectations.

6-) What is the example of the Nile meant to prove?

It is meant to show that a river's supply can exceed what visible sources seem able to provide.

7-) What does the Nile do for Egypt according to the passage?

It turns dry and sandy land into a rich and life-giving place.

8-) Why is rainfall also not enough, according to the passage?

Because the rain is scarce in that hot area and the dry earth quickly absorbs it.

9-) What tradition developed because the visible explanations seemed insufficient?

People came to say that the Nile has a miraculous connection to an unseen Paradise.

10-) What is the main idea of the whole marked passage?

The sea and rivers show through their order, provision, and abundance that they are under the care of Allah, not independent forces.

11sinif supreme-sign-p19-the-testimony-of-the-seas-and-rivers-4th-degree-rivers-flowing-from-the-treasury-of-mercy-and-the-example-of-the-nile - Set 6 - CEVAPLAR

1-) When the traveller studies the sea, what signs of design stand out to him?

He notices the beauty of what is in it and the highly ordered life of its creatures.

2-) What spiritual lesson does the traveller take from the sea creatures' condition?

He learns that their world is being ruled by a mighty and compassionate Creator.

3-) What belief is strengthened by observing the deep sea?

Belief in a Creator who is powerful, glorious, merciful, and life-giving.

4-) According to the passage, what is the real source behind rivers and springs?

Their real source is Allah's mercy.

5-) According to the passage, what is the true storehouse behind flowing waters?

It is the treasury of Allah's mercy.

6-) How should the idea of a river coming from Paradise be understood in this passage?

It should be understood as pointing to a deeper truth about a divine, unseen source.

7-) Why is the Nile singled out for closer attention?

Because it is an impressive example of abundant provision that seems greater than its visible source.

8-) What problem does it raise about rainfall?

The rainfall there is too little and too quickly absorbed to keep the river balanced.

9-) What two natural explanations are examined and found insufficient for the Nile?

Mountain storage and local rainfall.

10-) What is the main conclusion the reader is meant to reach from the whole passage?

Natural waters are signs of Allah's hidden mercy and sustaining power.
