

5sinif supreme-sign-p13-the-atmosphere-the-proof-of-divine-unity-in-the-obedient-service-of-cloud-and-wind -

Set 1

1-) When the traveler stops looking at the clouds and wind, what part of himself does he think with? (5 kelime)

He

2-) What does he say the cloud is not able to do by itself? (10 kelime)

It is

3-) What does the cloud do in the atmosphere under that command? (9 kelime)

It fills

4-) What does the traveler compare the changing sky-writing of the clouds to? (13 kelime)

He compares it

5-) How does the rain affect flowers and gardens? (9 kelime)

It helps

6-) What does the traveler say about each particle of air? (11 kelime)

He says

7-) What example shows that the air serves living things? (11 kelime)

It helps

8-) What does the wind help plants do? (7 kelime)

It

9-) What does the traveler infer from similar particles doing many different tasks worldwide? (10 kelime)

He infers

10-) Which two parts of nature are specially named together in the final verse of the passage? (5 kelime)

The

5sinif supreme-sign-p13-the-atmosphere-the-proof-of-divine-unity-in-the-obedient-service-of-cloud-and-wind - Set 2

1-) What does the traveler realize about the cloud's nature? (11 kelime)
He realizes

2-) What is the cloud compared to in appearance? (7 kelime)
It

3-) How does the cloud change the atmosphere? (8 kelime)
It covers

4-) What larger event does this changing sky scene remind the traveler of? (8 kelime)
It reminds

5-) For whom are the rain treasures brought? (8 kelime)
They are

6-) How does the traveler describe the outer form of the air? (7 kelime)
As

7-) What comparison is used for the particles of air? (8 kelime)
They are

8-) Give one example of how the air supports life. (4 kelime)
It

9-) What technologies are mentioned to show one job of the air? (6

kelime)

Telephone,

10-) What overall message does the traveler take from the winds and clouds? (12 kelime)

They are clear

5sinif supreme-sign-p13-the-atmosphere-the-proof-of-divine-unity-in-the-obedient-service-of-cloud-and-wind -
Set 3

1-) After looking at natural events, what does the traveler say to his own mind? (11 kelime)

He tells

2-) According to the passage, whose command does the cloud follow? (11 kelime)

It follows

3-) How does the passage describe the ruler behind the cloud's actions? (6 kelime)

As

4-) How is the cloud connected to helping needy creation? (9 kelime)

It brings

5-) Who does the cloud hurry to help? (7 kelime)

It

6-) What does the traveler call the wind in relation to service? (6 kelime)

He

7-) Besides helping life, what transportation job does the air assist with? (5 kelime)

It

8-) What are the two simple substances named in the passage? (3 kelime)

9-) What does the traveler notice about the tiny particles across the world? (11 kelime)

The same

5sinif supreme-sign-p13-the-atmosphere-the-proof-of-divine-unity-in-the-obedient-service-of-cloud-and-wind - Set 4

1-) What false idea about the cloud does the traveler correct first? (13 kelime)

He corrects the

2-) What does the cloud's disappearing and returning show to the traveler? (9 kelime)

It shows

3-) What repeated action of the cloud points to command and control? (7 kelime)

It

4-) What does the cloud bring while traveling on the wind? (6 kelime)

It

5-) What good effects do the cloud's "tears" have on the earth? (13 kelime)

They help flowers

6-) What four words best describe the tasks arising through the air? (5 kelime)

Wise,

7-) What does the traveler conclude from this surprise? (14 kelime)

He concludes that

8-) What forms of communication are named in the passage? (5 kelime)

Wireless,

9-) What are the particles said to be made from? (7 kelime)

They

5sinif supreme-sign-p13-the-atmosphere-the-proof-of-divine-unity-in-the-obedient-service-of-cloud-and-wind - Set 5

1-) What natural thing does the traveler think about first in this passage? (6 kelime)

He

2-) How does the passage describe the one who commands the cloud? (6 kelime)

As

3-) What two opposite actions does the cloud perform in the sky? (8 kelime)

It fills

4-) What does the traveler say the cloud carries to the needy? (8 kelime)

It carries

5-) What does the traveler notice about the wind's many jobs? (16 kelime)

He notices that they

6-) What does the traveler decide about the wind and air after thinking about their many jobs? (15 kelime)

He decides they

7-) What does the wind help animals do? (7 kelime)

It

8-) What simple elements are named as making up the particles? (3

kelime)

9-) What Qur'anic subject is mentioned at the end of the target passage? (15 kelime)

It mentions the

5sinif supreme-sign-p13-the-atmosphere-the-proof-of-divine-unity-in-the-obedient-service-of-cloud-and-wind - Set 6

1-) In this passage, why does the traveler talk to his own intellect? (11 kelime)

To think

2-) What movement of the cloud shows obedience? (10 kelime)

It goes

3-) What does the cloud do to the sky that makes it seem like writing and wiping? (10 kelime)

It forms

4-) What does the cloud use to move its loads of rain? (5 kelime)

It

5-) Name two things the rain from the cloud does for the earth. (8 kelime)

It cools

6-) Even though the air is unconscious, how does it seem to act? (13 kelime)

It acts as

7-) What does the traveler think each tiny piece of air is like? (5 kelime)

Like

8-) What living things receive help from the air? (3 kelime)

9-) What does the verse mentioned in the passage point to in nature?

(9 kelime)
It points

CEVAP ANAHTARI

5sinif supreme-sign-p13-the-atmosphere-the-proof-of-divine-unity-in-the-obedient-service-of-cloud-and-wind -

Set 1 - CEVAPLAR

1-) When the traveler stops looking at the clouds and wind, what part of himself does he think with?

He thinks with his mind.

2-) What does he say the cloud is not able to do by itself?

It is not able to knowingly choose to help people.

3-) What does the cloud do in the atmosphere under that command?

It fills the air and then empties it again.

4-) What does the traveler compare the changing sky-writing of the clouds to?

He compares it to a board where things are written and erased again.

5-) How does the rain affect flowers and gardens?

It helps flowers open and gives water to gardens.

6-) What does the traveler say about each particle of air?

He says each one seems to know and obey every command.

7-) What example shows that the air serves living things?

It helps animals breathe and helps plants grow and be pollinated.

8-) What does the wind help plants do?

It helps them be pollinated and grow.

9-) What does the traveler infer from similar particles doing many different tasks worldwide?

He infers that a wise hand employs them in order.

10-) Which two parts of nature are specially named together in the final verse of the passage?

The winds and the clouds.

5sinif supreme-sign-p13-the-atmosphere-the-proof-of-divine-unity-in-the-obedient-service-of-cloud-and-wind - Set 2 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What does the traveler realize about the cloud's nature?

He realizes it is lifeless and has no understanding of people.

2-) What is the cloud compared to in appearance?

It is compared to soft carded cotton.

3-) How does the cloud change the atmosphere?

It covers the sky and later clears it.

4-) What larger event does this changing sky scene remind the traveler of?

It reminds him of gathering and rising again.

5-) For whom are the rain treasures brought?

They are brought for those who need help.

6-) How does the traveler describe the outer form of the air?

As lifeless, unstable, stormy, and always changing.

7-) What comparison is used for the particles of air?

They are compared to soldiers obeying their commander.

8-) Give one example of how the air supports life.

It helps creatures breathe.

9-) What technologies are mentioned to show one job of the air?

Telephone, telegraph, radio, and wireless communication.

10-) What overall message does the traveler take from the winds and clouds?

They are clear signs that Allah directs creation with power and mercy.

5sinif supreme-sign-p13-the-atmosphere-the-proof-of-
divine-unity-in-the-obedient-service-of-cloud-and-wind -
Set 3 - CEVAPLAR

1-) After looking at natural events, what does the traveler say to his own mind?

He tells his mind that these things cannot act by themselves.

2-) According to the passage, whose command does the cloud follow?

It follows the command of a very powerful and merciful ruler.

3-) How does the passage describe the ruler behind the cloud's actions?

As mighty, compassionate, magnificent, and generous.

4-) How is the cloud connected to helping needy creation?

It brings rain quickly to those who need help.

5-) Who does the cloud hurry to help?

It hurries to help those in need.

6-) What does the traveler call the wind in relation to service?

He calls it a hardworking servant.

7-) Besides helping life, what transportation job does the air assist with?

It helps sailing ships travel.

8-) What are the two simple substances named in the passage?

Hydrogen and oxygen.

9-) What does the traveler notice about the tiny particles across the world?

The same kinds of particles work in many different ways everywhere.

5sinif supreme-sign-p13-the-atmosphere-the-proof-of-
divine-unity-in-the-obedient-service-of-cloud-and-wind -
Set 4 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What false idea about the cloud does the traveler correct first?

He corrects the idea that the cloud helps people by its own choice.

2-) What does the cloud's disappearing and returning show to the traveler?

It shows that it is being directed by commands.

3-) What repeated action of the cloud points to command and control?

It disappears fully and then returns suddenly.

4-) What does the cloud bring while traveling on the wind?

It brings large supplies of rain.

5-) What good effects do the cloud's "tears" have on the earth?

They help flowers open, cool the heat, water gardens, and clean the earth.

6-) What four words best describe the tasks arising through the air?

Wise, merciful, skillful, and generous.

7-) What does the traveler conclude from this surprise?

He concludes that the air is serving under command, not acting on its own.

8-) What forms of communication are named in the passage?

Wireless, telephone, telegraph, and radio.

9-) What are the particles said to be made from?

They are made from hydrogen and oxygen.

5sinif supreme-sign-p13-the-atmosphere-the-proof-of- divine-unity-in-the-obedient-service-of-cloud-and-wind - Set 5 - CEVAPLAR

1-) What natural thing does the traveler think about first in this passage?

He first thinks about the cloud.

2-) How does the passage describe the one who commands the cloud?

As exalted, active, powerful, and compassionate.

3-) What two opposite actions does the cloud perform in the sky?

It fills the sky and then empties it.

4-) What does the traveler say the cloud carries to the needy?

It carries rain like treasure sent for help.

5-) What does the traveler notice about the wind's many jobs?

He notices that they are wise, helpful, and too organized to come from the wind itself.

6-) What does the traveler decide about the wind and air after thinking about their many jobs?

He decides they do not work by themselves but obey a wise and powerful commander.

7-) What does the wind help animals do?

It helps them breathe and stay alive.

8-) What simple elements are named as making up the particles?

Hydrogen and oxygen.

9-) What Qur'anic subject is mentioned at the end of the target passage?

It mentions the directing of winds and the ordering of clouds between sky and earth.

5sinif supreme-sign-p13-the-atmosphere-the-proof-of-divine-unity-in-the-obedient-service-of-cloud-and-wind - Set 6 - CEVAPLAR

1-) In this passage, why does the traveler talk to his own intellect?

To think carefully about what the cloud and air really show.

2-) What movement of the cloud shows obedience?

It goes away completely and then comes back when needed.

3-) What does the cloud do to the sky that makes it seem like writing and wiping?

It forms patterns in the sky and then removes them.

4-) What does the cloud use to move its loads of rain?

It travels on the wind.

5-) Name two things the rain from the cloud does for the earth.

It cools the heat and waters the gardens.

6-) Even though the air is unconscious, how does it seem to act?

It acts as if each tiny part knows its duty and obeys orders.

7-) What does the traveler think each tiny piece of air is like?

Like a soldier following commands.

8-) What living things receive help from the air?

Animals and plants.

9-) What does the verse mentioned in the passage point to in nature?

It points to the controlling of winds and clouds.