

1

What main truth is introduced at the beginning of the passage?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 1

The passage introduces the reality that beings in the universe help one another in ways far beyond their own power.

2

Why does the passage say this co-operation cannot be explained by the beings themselves?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 2

Because the help and coordination go beyond their own ability, awareness, and strength.

3

How do the clouds function in this chain of help?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 3

They are described as aiding plant life.

4

How does the animal world support human beings?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 4

Animals are shown as serving human life and benefit.

5

Why is the example of an infant's nourishment important in the argument?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 5

It shows that a helpless being receives what it needs without having the ability to secure it by itself.

6

What bodily example is used to show inward co-operation?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 6

Food particles are directed to the body's cells to renew and support them.

7

Why does the passage compare the universe to a palace?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 7

To show that it is managed in an organized, purposeful, and well-run way.

8

What conclusion is drawn from the co-operation of inanimate things?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 8

They must be directed by the power and command of a compassionate, wise, and glorious Sustainer.

9

What range of things is used to show the vastness of balance and preservation?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 9

The passage moves from heavenly bodies down to organs, limbs, and even tiny particles in living bodies.

10

What does assigning duties to created things imply about the universe?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 10

It implies that creation operates under purpose, direction, and responsibility rather than chance.

11

According to the passage, what shared reality appears among created things?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 11

A widespread pattern of mutual assistance appears among them.

12

What does the phrase about constant upheaval suggest about the world?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 12

It suggests that the world is always in motion and change, not stable or self-sufficient.

13

What does the image of milk for a baby communicate about divine care?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 13

It shows gentle and immediate mercy for the weakest and most needy.

14

How does the nourishment of body cells strengthen the main claim?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 14

It shows that even inside the body there is a directed and purposeful system of support.

15

What larger attribute is shown by these many examples of support and provision?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 15

They show a caring lordship that manages the whole universe.

16

Why does the passage stress that solid and lifeless things are neither aware nor feeling?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 16

To show that their orderly service cannot come from themselves.

17

How does the passage use very large and very small examples together?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 17

It uses both to show that the same wise rule appears throughout all levels of existence.

18

Why are fruits like corn and pomegranates mentioned with cosmic structures?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 18

To show that careful order exists in ordinary earthly things just as it does in massive heavenly systems.

19

In the passage's argument, what is the role of this whole section on co-operation?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 19

It provides one major part of the universe's witness to the existence and qualities of its Sustainer.

20

How does the passage end this discussion?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 20

It says only a brief indication has been given because this testimony has been explained elsewhere.

21

What central idea ties the whole passage together?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 21

The whole passage centers on the universe-wide harmony of things helping one another under divine rule.

22

What can be inferred from the claim that co-operation goes beyond the capacity of creatures?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 22

It can be inferred that another power is organizing and directing them.

23

How do clouds fit into the larger system described?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 23

They play a supporting role for plant life within the wider chain of benefit.

24

What role do animals have in this sequence?

lisans supreme-sign-p67-summary-of-the-lesson-from-the-cosmos-there-is-no-god-but-allah

Cevap 24

They are shown as a means of support and service for human beings.