isans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-perfections

Cevap 2

As something obvious from the order, beauty, justice, wisdom, and purpose found throughout creation.

3

How is the Creator described through His relationship to the cosmos?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-
perfections

Cevap 3

As the One who brought it into being and manages it in an extraordinary, beautiful, and ordered way.

4

Why is the human being not just another example, but a special one?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-
perfections

Cevap 4

Because the human being is described as conscious, highly valued, and a key fruit of creation.

5

How are human beings tied into this proof?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-
perfections

Cevap 5

Humans are presented as a conscious reflection of the Creator and as one of the highest products of creation.

Why is this description of humanity important to the argument?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-
perfections

Cevap 6

Because it shows that human worth and excellence are part of the larger pattern of perfection in creation.

7

What would happen to the rank of the human being if this false belief were accepted?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-perfections

Cevap 7

Human beings would be lowered from an honored and meaningful position to a miserable and degraded one.

8

How does the passage contrast a universe grounded in Divine unity with one interpreted through shirk?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-perfections

Cevap 8

With Divine unity, the universe is wise and meaningful; with shirk, it becomes pointless, cruel, and confused in meaning.

9

What happens to the understanding of the Creator if shirk is accepted?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-
perfections

Cevap 9

The reflected signs of His limitless perfection become covered over and the meaning of His creative work is denied.

10

What can a reader infer about the overall tone of this passage toward shirk?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-perfections

Cevap 10

It treats shirk as deeply destructive intellectually, spiritually, and morally.

11

What truth is being explained in the marked passage?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-
perfections

Cevap 11

The truth that real perfection exists and that this perfection points to the oneness and perfection of the Creator.

12

Which kinds of evidence are listed first to show that perfection exists?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-perfections

Cevap 12

The passage points to wisdom, beauty, justice, and purposeful arrangement in the universe.

13

How does the existence of these qualities affect the understanding of the Creator?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-
perfections

Cevap 13

They lead to the conclusion that the Maker of such a world must have perfection in Himself.

14

Why is that important for belief in Divine unity?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-
perfections

Cevap 14

Because such complete and meaningful order supports the belief that one perfect Creator is behind it.

15

How is humanity described in relation to the universe?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-
perfections

Cevap 15

As its most important fruit and as a conscious being that reflects the Creator.

16

How does the passage describe the condition of living beings under that false view?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-
perfections

Cevap 16

It says they would be seen as trapped in a harsh and painful existence instead of being part of a wise and meaningful order.

17

Why would shirk, according to this passage, ruin the meaning of the world?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-
perfections

Cevap 17

Because it would strip the world of wisdom and purpose and make it seem governed by blind chance or mere nature.

18

What is one consequence for human self-understanding in that outlook?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-perfections

Cevap 18

Human dignity and excellence would collapse into a picture of weakness, misery, and lowliness.

19

Why does the passage point readers to another section instead of repeating all the proofs here?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-
perfections

Cevap 19

Because it says the matter has already been demonstrated in detail and only a shortened treatment is given in this place.

20

What would happen to the recognition of the Creator's infinite qualities?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-
perfections

Cevap 20

It would be obscured, as if a covering had been placed over the signs that point to His perfection.

21

Summarize the passage's argument in one or two sentences.

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-
perfections

Cevap 21

The passage says that the many forms of excellence seen in the universe and in human beings prove that perfection is real. From that, it concludes that the Creator is perfect

22

What examples from the world are used to support that claim?

isans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-
perfections

Cevap 22

The passage mentions wise design, beauty, just order, and meaningful aims in the universe.

23

What does the passage say about the way the cosmos came to be and continues to exist?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-perfections

Cevap 23

It says the cosmos was brought into existence and is governed in a remarkable and beautiful manner.

24

What conclusion does the passage draw from the perfected state of the cosmos?

lisans supreme-sign-p77-2nd-chapter-1st-stopping-place-
perfections

Cevap 24

That the One who made it must possess perfection.
