Cevap 4 Seven.	Cevap 3 More than three hundred million people in every century.	Cevap 2 It refers to the Qur'an.	Cevap 1 He is presented as completely truthful and incapable of lying because of his relation to the divine message he delivers.
Cevap 8 It indicates deep and lasting acceptance among people over time.	Cevap 7 It is described as a famous work and compared to the sun within the Risale-i Nur.	Cevap 6 The Qur'an's miraculous nature and that it is the speech of the Creator.	Cevap 5 It is said to have forty aspects of miraculousness.
Cevap 12 It is described as coming from the Creator of all beings.	Cevap 11 The Qur'an is used as a major proof.	Cevap 10 The Qur'an is presented as a divine and miraculous decree affirmed across generations, so the one entrusted to convey it cannot be a liar.	Cevap 9 Also the nature of the book he brings.

13 What does the phrase about every century imply about the decree's influence?	14 Why would lying by the messenger count as a violation of the decree itself?	15 Why would such lying also count as betrayal toward the One who issued the decree?	16 What is the effect of mentioning both the message and the Sender in the final sentence?

Cevap 16 It strengthens the argument by showing that lying would be wrong on both levels.	Cevap 15 Because the decree belongs to Allah, so falsehood in delivering it would break the trust owed to Him.	Cevap 14 Because his role is to faithfully deliver and announce it, so dishonesty would go against the message he carries.	Cevap 13 It implies that its influence is continuous and not limited to one era.
Cevap 20 Since he faithfully carries and proclaims a divine, miraculous book accepted across ages, deceit cannot belong to him.	Cevap 19 It would amount to disloyalty and breach of trust.	Cevap 18 It borrows the weight of detailed proof from that book while making a brief clear conclusion here.	Cevap 17 Because it points readers to that fuller discussion and keeps this section concise.
Cevap 24 Its miraculousness and divine origin have already been explained there with solid proofs.	Cevap 23 Seven broad ways are mentioned.	Cevap 22 It is called the Qur'an of Mighty Stature.	Cevap 21 The central focus is the divine book.
